SUN YAT SEN FORCES AND 'FACIST' CLASH

Fifty Stores in Canton Fired And Bombardment of City Is Threatened

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Fighting has broken out between the forces of Sun Yat Sen and volunteers (Chinese fascist) in the Canton district, said a Central News dispatch from Hong Kong today.

The fighting reported at Canton has no connection with the threatened clash between rival factions in the Shanghai district. Fifty Canton stores were reported destroyed by fire believed to have been set by incendiaries. Sun Yat Sen threatened to bombard Canton, but this threat has not been carried out at last reports.

Foreigners remained in their homes under orders from their respective consulates.

U. S. Destroyers Arrive at Shanghai

SHANGHAI, Aug. 30.—Three American destroyers and one British cruiser arrived today prepared to protect the foreign settlement in case it is threatened by the impending struggle between rival provinces for control of the Shanghai district.

Mediators continued today to avert war between Kiangsu and Chekiang provinces. Both sides issued statements declaring they desired peace but the mobilization of forces continued unabated and in some quarters failure of the mediators' efforts is expected.

Wall Street Would Return Coolidge to White House David Lawrence Reveals

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1924 by The Glendale Evening News

WALL STREET, NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—What do the men in the heart of the financial districts of America really think about the forthcoming election to the presidency?

Talks with some of the leading men in "the street" bring out first of all that the big business people want Calvin Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes to be elected so that there will be no change in the existing attitude of the administration toward business.

Conservatism hereabouts no longer means endorsement of candidates who will give special privileges, but keeping in power men who will not disturb things. Business is not after something so much as it wishes to be left alone.

Sure of Coolidge's Policies
When John W. Davis was nominated by the Democrats, it was promptly assumed that because he was once attorney for J. P. Morgan and company, he would have the whole-hearted support of the financial community. But while there are individuals here and there who will vote for him, Calvin Coolidge will get the Wall Street vote with ease.

It isn't so much that the Street dislikes Davis for it admires his fine qualities of mind but, as one financier put it "We are sure of what Coolidge will do because we know his record but we don't know what Davis would do because we don't know his record."

Bryan Hurts Ties
Unquestionably the tie-up of Governor Bryan and Mr. W. Davis has hurt the market with Wall Street. The more curious because of William Jennings Bryan, who was objecting to Davis, the Madison Square convention on the

Hollywood Police Called to Quell Dog Riot at Film Plant

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Well dressed men, bare-footed boys, girls and women, all leading dogs of assorted breeds and previous condition of servitude, stormed Hollywood today.

More than 1,000 canines made up the parade which marched to a motion picture company's headquarters.

Later it was learned the march of the dogs had resulted from a fake newspaper advertisement, offering $3 an hour for the animals.

While the dogs and their owners milled around the studio demanding admittance, scores of fights took place between the animals and finally police were called to quell the disturbance.

NEW FOREST FIRE MENACE FOUGHT

Officials Fear Holiday Crowd Will Spread Flames; Four Blazes Are Reported

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Forestry officials were gravely preparing today to combat a new series of forest fires which have sprung up over the state. Coupled with the three-day holiday which will take many people into the state and national forests, the situation was again admittedly serious.

In Sierra National forest three fires were burning, one near the scene of the big Sweetwater fire threatening the town by that name. Road convicts from Briceburg camp are assisting in fighting this blaze.

In California's national forest the Elders creek fire reported yesterday had today destroyed a lumber mill and Davis had stood on the Democratic platform, the financial interests abandoned Davis. They do not exactly condemn the Democratic platform as radical and Socialistic, for they reserve those terms mostly for La Follette and his platform, but they do say the Democratic platform permits of radical interpretations and is so thrashed that it can be used to disturb Wall Street's affairs. For instance, in the matter of freight rates, the Street feels, of course, that the farmer should be helped but would view with alarm, any reduction in freight rates that would disturb the earning power of the railroads. Davis' first statement that he thought a way could be found to cut freight rates made Wall Street a trifle uneasy.

Street Not Excited

By and large "the Street" is not excited about the election. It is August and, of course, many of the leaders are away. Those who are here reflect accurately the feeling of the community. They want the status quo. They like Coolidge because he does not tear things up. As yet "the Street" has not become perturbed over La Follette and the possibility

NEW MURDER MYSTIFIES SHERIFFS

Los Angeles Force Kept Busy Solving Mysteries of Dead and Living

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—James L. Edwards, "Silk Hat bandit," was identified here today by an 18-year-old Pasadena girl as the perpetrator of one of the most shocking murders in the annals of Los Angeles county crime. He was pointed out by Miss Ethel Todd as the bandit who brutally shot and killed William Jacobson of Pasadena, January 3, 1924.

When Jacobson attempted to prevent the bandit from attacking Miss Todd, his fiancée, following the robbery.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—The mutilated body of an unidentified man was found today at Torrance, near here. The body, slashed and beaten, was partly hidden in a clump of brush. This and two other mysteries are keeping the sheriff's office busy.

Upon the laundry marks "526" hinges the identity of a man found murdered near Trona, August 6, according to an announcement by Deputy Sheriff Stensland today.

All clues and marks of identification had been removed from the body with the exception of the laundry mark, and Stensland today appealed to the laundries of Los Angeles to check over their lists.

A week's frantic search which was begun here has failed to uncover any trace of Mae and Nina Martin, two young Los Angeles girls who disappeared last Saturday. Detectives said today they would question Edward Martin of Hoquiam, Wash., father of the girls.

Tip to Bank Robber

An important "tip" was obtained by the sheriff's office this noon which is expected to lead to the early arrest of the bandit who yesterday afternoon, posing as an investigator from the sheriff's office, held up the First National Bank of Watts and robbed the institution of approximately $9000 in cash.

The bandit worked himself into the confidence of officials of the bank by visiting the place two days ago and declaring he was a special investigator from the sheriff's office and, having obtained information that a robbery was to be staged at the bank yesterday afternoon, was detailed to frustrate the robbers.

Coolidge and Family Greet Royal Visitor At Executive Mansion

Prince of Wales Makes Trip From New York To National Capital in Special Train; Thousands Line Washington Streets

By H. K. REYNOLDS
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Edward Albert, Prince of Wales and heir to the British throne, arrived in Washington at 1 o'clock this afternoon and through a mile long line of cheering thousands, was carried in a White House automobile from the Union station to the executive mansion, where he was greeted by the President and Mrs. Coolidge.

Few times in the history of the capital has a foreign visitor received such a tumultuous and hearty welcome as that accorded the prince as he rode down Pennsylvania avenue.

Bows to Crowds

Smiling broadly at the great wave of cheering that marked his appearance in the concourse of the union station and again in the plaza outside, the prince removed his hat to bow right and left to the crowds and to wave a greeting to those that pushed through the police lines to get a closer view of the royal visitor.

Secretary of State Hughes, in formal morning attire, was on the platform when the prince's special train came to a halt in the union station.

Stepping from his private car, the prince instantly recognized Hughes and the two men strode toward each other, shook hands, exchanged greetings and felicitations and then, arm in arm, walked through the station to the White House automobile waiting at the entrance reserved for the arrivals and departures of the president.

Call Out Police

The prince wore a gray felt hat with a black band, a blue shirt with collar attached and a black cravat, a dark blue suit, grey hose and dark brown shoes.

An hour before the prince's train arrived, the union station plaza and Pennsylvania avenue from the capitol to the White House were crowded with thousands of persons, striving to gain points of vantage to watch the passing of the next King of England.

When the car carrying the prince and Secretary Hughes swung out of Delaware avenue, around the Peace monument at the foot of the capitol, and straightened out into Pennsylvania avenue, the crowds increased to such proportions that police reserves were called to make certain that the streets were not blocked by those that pushed through the thin line of blue coats assigned to guard the royal party.

Reach White House

Although interrupted many times throughout their fifteen minute ride from the station to the White House, Secretary Hughes and the prince conversed amiably and were still chatting when they alighted at the White House and entered through the great glass portals of the north portico.

After attending to a number of current matters of official business in the executive offices, President Coolidge returned to the mansion to greet the prince when he entered with Secretary Hughes and J. Butler Wright, the assistant secretary of state, who accompanied the prince from New York. He was joined by Mrs. Coolidge and their son John, the entire presidential family extending a simultaneous welcome to the prince and bidding him to "make himself at home" in the old New England fashion.

Meet in Blue Room

The meeting between the prince and the president took place in the Blue room. After exchange of felicitations in a most informal way with the president, the prince was escorted to a suite of rooms on the second floor of the White House to rest himself from his train journey and prepare for luncheon.

Secretary Hughes and Secretary Wright then retired, the former to return later in the afternoon with Mrs. Hughes, when all members of the cabinet will call at the White House to meet the prince.

Special Precaution Taken for Prince By Capital Police

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The state department shortly before noon requested the metropolitan police department to take special precautions for safeguarding the Prince of Wales during the time he is in Washington.

As the result of this request, additional bluecoats were called on duty and stationed around the union station, the White House and along Pennsylvania avenue.

ORDER ENVOY TO WORK FOR PEACE

American Official Will Seek To End Civil Strife In Honduras

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Stockley W. Morgan, American charge d'affaires at Tegucigalpa, has been instructed by the state department to use his good offices in efforts to bring about an agreement to end the civil war in Honduras, it was announced here this afternoon.

Other Central American governments have been notified of the action of the United States, and have been invited to co-operate in the movement to bring about a settlement between the contending factions.

Second Peace Move

It is understood that these Central American governments will instruct their diplomatic representatives in Honduras to join in the peace movement.

This is the second time within a few months that the United States has sought to establish peace in Honduras, an agreement having been concluded at Amalapa by Sumner Welles, who represented President Coolidge as special mediator.

Officials Defy Death Warnings

Peace Commission to Visit Bishop In Effort to Adjust Water War

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—In the face of warnings that further outbreaks of violence on the part of ranchers of Owens valley are feared as a result of the dispute over water rights between residents of that locality and the water board of Los Angeles, the city's "peace commission," which will seek an amicable adjustment of the controversy, plans to visit Bishop, the hotbed of the anti-Los Angeles agitation, next week, in conformity with its original plans, it was announced today.

Undeferred by scores of death threats that have been lodged against him, William Mulholland, chief engineer of the water bureau, and builder of the Los Angeles aqueduct, will accompany the party. The peace body will consist of members of the public service commission, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and business men interested in the settlement of the dispute which has been marked in recent months by sensational developments, among them the dynamiting of the aqueduct and kidnapping and near-lynching of L. C. Hall, a former Bishop attorney, now residing in Glendale.

Patriotic Federation To Aid Defense Plans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The American Federation of Patriotic societies was organized here today to co-operate in working out plans for the national defense. The society will be composed of representatives of more than a hundred national, fraternal, civic and patriotic organizations.

ILLINOIS AUTHORITIES MOBILIZE TROOPS FOR DUTY AS FEUD RENEWS IN FATAL GUN BATTLE

Alleged Gangsters Ride Into Hail of Bullets When State Frees Accused Murderers of Officer On Plea of Victim's Father

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 30.—The headquarters company, Third battalion, 130th infantry, stationed at Carbondale, will leave for Herrin as soon as it can be mobilized. Adjutant General Black made this announcement here this afternoon, after he had been informed of the renewal of the Williamson county rioting by International News Service.

HERRIN, Ill., Aug. 30.—Six persons were killed and at least four seriously wounded today in the latest Ku Klux Klan strife in "bloody Williamson" county. With dramatic suddenness, today's flare-up came in the midst of the trials of the riot cases of last February.

Shortly before noon State's Attorney Delos Duty nolle prossed the case against the Shelton brothers, Carl and Earl, who were arrested on charges of having slain Constable Caesar Cagle in rioting here February 8. Cagle was well known as a Klansman. The case was dismissed on the plea of Cagle's father.

Shooting Starts

The Shelton brothers, escorted by a number of their friends, reported to be Egan gangsters from St. Louis, got in an automobile to start back to St. Louis. They had gone but a few blocks when a carload of men, said to have been Klansmen, hove into sight. Almost immediately the shooting started.

Three bodies are in a downtown morgue. Two are dead in the hospital. A sixth body is said to be in a house near the scene of the fight.

Sheriff Wounded

At least five others, seriously wounded, are in hospital, which is barred and locked.

Sheriff George Galligan was shot and seriously wounded, according to reports current here. He is reported to be in the Herrin city hospital.

Mutiny Leaders Given Long Jail Sentences

MAIER TO FIGHT LONG BEACH TEAM

War Looms In Coast League As Result of Salt Lake's Proposed Move

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Precipitating a bitter baseball war on the Pacific coast, Edward R. Maier, owner of the Vernon club of the Coast League, asserted here today he would protest the transfer of the Salt Lake franchise to Long Beach in 1926, asserting the proposed deal would never be consummated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—Transfer of the Vernon club to San Francisco, providing continuous baseball for this city, would meet with no objections from the owners of the San Francisco club, Dr. C. H. Strub, president of the club, declared today.

"This holds good for Vernon, Salt Lake, Sacramento, or any team in the league that it might be deemed advisable to locate here," Strub declared.

"So far no overtures have been made to us, nor have we made overtures to any team in the league for the location of a second club in San Francisco," he said, "but, if it develops that such a move would be a good thing for the circuit and our interests are safeguarded, we will interpose no objections."

"It is understood that owners of the Oakland club would probably oppose the location of a third club in the Bay district."

EXPOSITION WILL HONOR GLENDALE

Tuesday, Sept. 9, Set Aside As Special Tribute by Neighboring City

BURBANK, Aug. 30.—Glendale day at the San Fernando Valley Industrial exposition is announced as Tuesday, September 9, by J. W. Charleville, manager of the local Chamber of Commerce. The place where the exposition is to be held is the plant of the American Aluminum Metal Products company, on West San Fernando boulevard at Turkey crossing, Burbank.

Parade of Autos

"The stage is all set, and everything is ready for 'Camera' in connection with the spectacular parade of decorated automobiles that is to herald the opening of the San Fernando Valley Industrial exposition at Burbank on the morning of Admission day, September 9—Tuesday. That parade is exciting more interest in the valley cities and throughout Southern California than any event of recent years, for the reason that the cash prizes to be given for the best decorated automobiles are available to all.

The morning parade will be through Burbank to Glendale and Hollywood and through Dark canyon and Cahuenga pass to the exposition grounds. The parade will be headed by motorcycle pilots, and police cars. Cars carrying the Queen's heralds will follow. Then comes the Queen, who is being followed by popular vote. She will be followed by cars bearing flower girls, city officials and Chamber of Commerce, Burbank band, decorated cars of valley and other cities, Van Nuys band and other decorated cars. The Queen will receive the royal crown during the afternoon of the opening day, when the two bands will be consolidated for accompaniment by the big pipe organ in welcoming the fair ruler."

CUT DAHLIAS, IS EXPERT'S ADVICE

Wizard Urges Growers to Prepare Blooms for 1925 Exhibit

EAGLE ROCK, Aug. 30.—J. J. Broomall of Dahlia drive, regarded as one of the greatest living flower wizards, urges Eagle Rock people to begin now if they would have prize winning dahlias for next year's show. This fall the show had to be abandoned because lack of rainfall had dwarfed the blooms. Says Mr. Broomall: "Now is the time to cut your dahlia plants back if you desire fine blooms at show time. Dahlias that have been blooming for months will exhaust their vitality and produce very inferior flowers if allowed to bloom continuously all through the summer months."

Best Time to Cut

"The middle of August is the best time to cut them back. If there are several stalks on the plant leave the smallest stalk for the present and cut all of the others down close to the surface of the ground. After the new shoots, (which will soon appear) are about six inches high, the remaining old stalk may be removed throwing all the strength of the plant into the new growth. The new stalks are very apt to be too numerous, not more than six or eight of them should be allowed to grow, and if extra large flowers are desired, half of that number will be enough. Pull out the smaller and weaker shoots and save the most vigorous."

Bride-elect Showered

Geist, Miss Helen Holst of Highland Park, Miss Fern Curtis of Arcadia, Mrs. McClain of Los Angeles, Mrs. J. T. French, Miss Muriel Gardner, Miss Alberta Steward, Miss Amber Young and Jed MacKee of Eagle Rock.

COMMENT

That's All
Spread Of Education
The Small Beginnings
Prince And President
Y. M. C. A. Is Essential
By Gil A. Cowan

More than a little stir has been caused by the announcement that a university to be located in Burbank has been endowed by an heirless to the extent of $16,000,000 and more endowments are being sought.

Trustees are being beseeched to name the benefactress in view of the publicity accruing to the benefit of a real estate firm. And, naturally enough, the people of Burbank are on the qui vive over the rumors.

Add to that the announcement of Occidental college that its Eagle Rock plant will become an educational institution for girls and a new institution built at Santa Monica for young men, and the prospects of Southern California becoming the educational center of the world are very bright.

With the branch of the University of California expanding, the University of Southern California embarking on an epochal era, Pomona college and Whittier college more highly endowed and an additional university projected for Los Angeles, there is no question in the mind of the thinking person that destiny is determined to make the southland the center of art and culture and science.

How well this writer remembers when California Institute of Technology—Throop college—was a mere infant among institutions, and now it is recognized as a leader. And, what an abject appearance the old Occidental college buildings in Highland Park have today as compared with the beautiful Eagle Rock campus with new buildings rising every year.

Yes, and the old Los Angeles Normal school, which was the forerunner of the branch university, would be subject to the old adage, "from little acorns great oaks grow."

Memories among the alumni of these institutions sink into insignificance compared with the dreams of the future for their respective alma maters.

The Prince of Wales is in America again. Today he is visiting the White House and dining with President and Mrs. Coolidge. It would be pleasing to know just what their conversation will be.

Not that we are inquisitive, but how will the Prince address the President? How will the President hobnob with royalty. Over in Lunnon court one bows himself in and backs out—a very difficult feat, they say. There is no handshaking or backslapping. No rough stuff goes in Buckingham palace. Likewise, it is not common to the White House, but one cannot help but sense the altogether different viewpoints held by two peoples.

The English people love their king and queen. They cherish their Crown Prince. American people respect their President and his wife and sorrow with them in the loss of a son.

Yes, we have no princes, but the dear women do read everything printed about His Royal Highness, even when he falls from his horse. And, many an American girl wishes she were Queen.

Yet, it is an even bet that the Prince wishes he were President today so he could step out and make a few speeches in the coming political campaign.

Glendale is going to have a drive for a Y. M. C. A. building fund. Here is something a little different in the way of a popular appeal to the public for financial support. It is a matter of prime importance that Glendale have a Y. M. C. A. building. This city has reached the size where such is necessary.

A correspondent addressing the writer yesterday regarding La Follette's age, said: "You are not so young yourself."

By golly, that was good. Wonder if he knew the writer of this column was born the year McKinley was elected President?

Even if the compensation is only a laugh on one's self, it is good to be young, we'll say!

TELLS PLANS TO EXTEND HIGHWAY

Mulholland Drive to Join Foothill Boulevard, Is Builders' Desire

TUJUNGA, Aug. 30.—Hugh Pomeroy, secretary of the county regional planning commission, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando valley held here this week. The Tujunga Chamber of Commerce was host to the visitors. Mr. Pomeroy's subject was the proposed extension of the Mulholland drive from San Fernando through Sunland, Tujunga, La Crescenta, Verdugo City and Montrose to Glendale.

Mr. Pomeroy stated that it is the hope of those interested to build this drive along the base of the hills north of Tujunga, crossing the Tujunga wash on a flood control dam that is to be built by the county and connect with the proposed extension of the Foothill boulevard that is planned to run west from the Arroyo Seco.

Talks About Parks
The subject of public parks and playgrounds was also mentioned by Mr. Pomeroy, who stated that the possibilities of securing these are fast vanishing and urged the active interest of the public in getting them. The speaker suggested that action should be taken to preserve the fine grove of oak trees south of Honolulu avenue between Tujunga and Verdugo City.

Before the business session of the meeting was called a dinner was served by the women of the American Legion Auxiliary and afterward the meeting was adjourned to the Garden of the Moon, where dancing was enjoyed by the visitors.

ATTRACTIVE ART SHOP IS OPENED

Mrs. C. V. Phillips Launches Ambitious Enterprise At La Crescenta

LA CRESCENTA, Aug. 30.—The Art and Book Nook, an attractive art shop, located at 350 East Michigan avenue, La Crescenta, has been recently opened by Mrs. C. V. Phillips, former Glendalian, who has gained recognition here as an artist of considerable reputation.

This attractive nook, situated in the picturesque La Crescenta valley, surrounded by the beautiful Verdugo hills, contains many beautiful and interesting pieces of art, including a number of Mrs. Phillips' own handiwork. The studio occupies an unusually slightly position. From the extreme south the studio overlooks Verdugo Woodlands and on a clear day one can visualize in the distance Catalina island.

The studio itself is most attractive in its harmonious scheme of decoration. The walls are of a delicate French gray, while the floor is covered with beautiful Chinese rugs in blue tones. Several canvases of Mrs. Phillips' own artistic work, showing interesting pictures of many lands where she has wandered at her leisure, are hung on the walls. Quaint bits of pottery from the far east, embroideries, carvings, brass art work, all from different parts of the globe, are placed on display for the inspection of beauty loving collectors and artists.

From Many Lands
Novel lamp shades made from the iridescent shells of the Philippine islands, toys from Bohemia and other lands and a splendid selection of books carefully chosen, which include quaint flower books, beautifully illustrated editions of the stories of operas and the well loved Hans Andersen's fairy tales, are also to be found in the little wonder studio. Mrs. Phillips also has a large assortment of baskets, made by the Indians.

Mrs. Phillips, who has had the privilege of studying under Whistler, is assisted in her present work by her husband, C. V. Phillips, and together they hope to make the nook so attractive that it will soon become the most popular place in the La Crescenta valley for those artistically inclined.

Recommend Tax Rate For Fire Protection

TUJUNGA, Aug. 30.—A fire tax rate of 50 cents has been recommended to the board of supervisors by the Tujunga-Sunland fire protection advisory committee. This is proposed to cover initial expense and operations costs of maintaining equipment for a period of eighteen months ending December 31, 1925. It was estimated by the committee that the amount that can be secured by this rate is $10,600, which will provide for a full time fireman and other expenses. The committee plans to organize volunteers to be subject to call in the event of an outbreak of fire.

The work of placing fire hydrants in the district has been started by the Haines Canyon Water company, which has a contract with the county for the work. A total of seventy hydrants will be placed, the first going in at strategic points in the business districts.

There are more than 6000 public playgrounds and recreation centers in the United States.

Visit President on Eastern Motor Trip

Completing a motor trip of 8000 miles, during which they averaged 1000 miles a week, Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Brown and son Herbert of 1806 Sierra avenue, arrived home Wednesday.

One of the features of the trip was a visit in Washington, D. C., their former home city. There they called on Senator Samuel Shortridge, who gave them a letter of introduction to the president. They state that they were the first visitors received in the White House following the death of Calvin Coolidge, Jr. It was their pleasure to shake hands with the President.

From Washington they drove on to North Carolina and Florida. They had planned on wintering in Florida, but found too many mosquitoes, so decided to return to California.

Lodge Plans Change in Meeting Place

Announcement is made that the neighbors of Woodcraft are to meet in the future in the American Legion hall on East Broadway instead of in the I. O. O. F. hall. They will begin meeting in this new location September 23. Meetings will be held the second and fourth Tuesday nights of each month.

Because of an invitation to attend a meeting in Los Angeles on September 9, the order will not meet in Glendale on that date. No meeting will be held on Labor Day.

On September 4 the neighbors will meet with Mrs. Minnie Litchton of 512 West Lexington drive.

Xavius Zantippe In Limelight As Mars Misbehaves

Professor Performs Worse
Than Usual, Declaring He Is Prince of Whales

By H. THOMPSON RICH
 Copied Right 1924 by Collaborators
 of The Evening News Staff

Professor Xavius Zantippe, noted savant and equitator, was picked up in a semi-conscious condition this morning, on the bridge trail between the pavement and the curb, on Central avenue, and taken to a local sanitarium, where he became voluble after swallowing something and told the following amazing story.

It seems, or at least, it seemed then, that the learned professor was riding peacefully over the hills from Tujung, on his trusty plug, Mars, when suddenly one of those heavy downpours that are typically tropical of this season overtook him.

Nag Bites Professor
 Presently it was raining fish-bombs and hammer-handles. Ignoring the latter, Professor Zantippe selected a quantity of the former, baited them with bait from his trusty bait-box, which he always carries at this season for such emergencies, attached them to his usual line of bull and cast his make-shift tackle into the raging torrent.

For a while the fish refused to bite. Then, without warning, one bit Mars in the ankle. This infuriated the old nag, which, snorting with rage, reared and for revenge bit the learned professor in the fleshy part of the leg.

Howling with pain and indignation, Professor Zantippe kicked his trusty plug in the abdomen. For some reason Mars resented this, and in a twinkling the race was on. As they came tearing down the avenue, the water rising from their paws as from a dreadnaught, the amazed populace gathered on the sidewalks, rubbed their eyes and called upon the aged and infirm, the gibbering, the babes in arms, to come and behold this miracle.

Aha, the Prince Arrives
 "The Prince of Whales!" someone called.

"He can have my job!" replied the learned and uncomfortable professor, holding his saddle by dint of a strangle-hold on Mars' left ear.

"The Prince of Whales is right!" called out another bystander.

Just at that moment there came a mighty tug at the fishing line, which Professor Zantippe still held tightly clutched in his hand. Feeling himself challenged, he tugged back—when there came a gargantuan jerk that lifted him clear of his uncertain perch on Mars and landed him smack! on the hurricane deck of a mammoth sea-going whale, which had taken the hook and was picking its teeth with the same.

Left to his own devices, Mars speedily foundered. Aboard this more seaworthy craft, the learned and dumfounded professor at once set about to find a companion-way. He must have pressed the wrong button, however, for at once a great gyser lifted from about the mizen-mast and whirled aloft.

Motions for Succor
 Leaving him still rising, the wily mammal tilted its submersing rudder and dove to the bottom of Central avenue with a fillip of its tail, to be seen no more. The agitated savant, meanwhile, had reached his perihelion and was obligingly complying with Newton's law. A moment more and swat! he struck the water.

Which presently receded, and there he lay, moaning feebly and motinoting for succor.

"Who are you?" cried a passer-by, picking him up in his car.

"I am the Prince of Whales, sir, I would have you know! The Queen sent me to America to marry a fairy princess and save the family jewels—but psst. Never a word!"

And bowing low, he collapsed.

W. M. Singer's Home Found Burglarized

W. M. Singer of 816 East Garfield avenue found on his return yesterday from a two weeks' visit in Portland, Ore., that his home had been burglarized in his absence. He reported to police headquarters that among the articles missing are a $65 ring, a savings bank with $4 in it, a box of cigars and a framed picture of his wife. The thieves also stole Mr. Singer's automatic pistol, but, for some reason, either accidentally or by design, dropped outside the window through which they gained entrance.

REVIVAL TO CLOSE

Rev. O. B. Ong, who has been conducting revival services at the First Nazarene church on South Glendale, is to conclude his campaign tomorrow, when he will preach three times.

October and April temperatures are most conducive to efficiency in both physical and mental work.

MEN WILL ASSIST IN MISSION WORK

'Willard Learned Section' Is Organized by Members
Of Local Church

"The Willard Learned Section" was the name given the men's department of the missionary society of the Central Christian church, at a meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Eva Hutton and Mrs. Alma Wright at 326 East Colorado street.

The name chosen is of much significance, in view of the fact that the missionary society of the church is supporting Mr. and Mrs. Willard Learned, missionaries in Africa.

Mrs. Hutton and Mrs. Wright had arranged a most novel program. The fifteen men attending the meeting were seated about a long table, on which there were three pyramids of sand. Hidden in the sand were Biblical questions dealing with the early history of Egypt and pictures of slabs that had been excavated to prove the authenticity of the Bible. The general theme of the program was "Excavations from the Earth."

Tell of Research
 O. L. Kilborn gave an interesting account of excavations made in Egypt; Mr. Lathrop told of his early impressions of excavations in the United States and foreign parts, and Rev. C. A. Cole spoke on the theme, "The World Made by God." At the close of Mr. Cole's talk two of the church men appeared dressed as foreigners and asked that they be told the old, old story. They sang "Tell Me the Old, Old Story." In response the company rose and sang "I Love to Tell the Story."

After a business hour refreshments were served by the hostesses.

PLAN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE NEXT WEEK

Joint Meeting of Legion and Auxiliary Is Scheduled
For Friday Night

Members of the Glendale post, No. 127, American Legion, and the auxiliary will hold a joint meeting next Friday night, it was decided at the meeting of the post held last night at the Legion hall, 610 East Broadway. Legionnaires bring their wives and friends, it was announced.

Leroy Fortier will be in charge of the committee looking after the music and dancing, and Dr. Edwin Armstrong is in charge of the committee to furnish refreshments.

Plans for the big membership campaign of the post and auxiliary will be made at the meeting, and new members will be initiated on the night of September 12.

It was stated by Adjutant E. E. McWain that he had a list of 450 names of former service men in Glendale who are eligible to membership in the local post.

Mr. Gilliland, second vice-commander, presided at the meeting last night in the absence of Commander Joseph A. Wilson, who is on his vacation. Walter Horstman provided the musical program, which consisted of vocal selections by Miss Mildred Hughey and A. W. Wallenius, with Mrs. T. W. Schrader as accompanist.

"Kentuck," a product of the South, entertained with a one-man minstrel show.

Reports were made by Burt Richardson, E. W. Gilliland, W. Kelley and H. B. Thompson, captains of the four teams of Legion men who have volunteered for service in the Angeles Forest Fire Protective association. It was announced a practice drill would be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at Fire Station No. 1. Forty-eight members of the post have volunteered for service, it was reported.

Arnold and Hatch
 H. P. Arnold will direct the fourth division and will be assisted by P. L. Hatch. They have chosen the name of "Go-Getters" as best signifying the aim, purpose and result which their division will endeavor to accomplish.

Mr. Arnold, manager of the Bentley Roofing company, is also a member of the Y. M. C. A. board. He is active in music circles and a member of Kiwanis and Oakmont Country clubs. Mr. Hatch, general manager of the Glendale-Montrose railway, while not a member of the Y. M. C. A. board, has been a leader of a H-Y group for a number of years, and emphasizes his continued faith in work for boys by assuming this position of leadership. He is a member of the Glendale Rotary club.

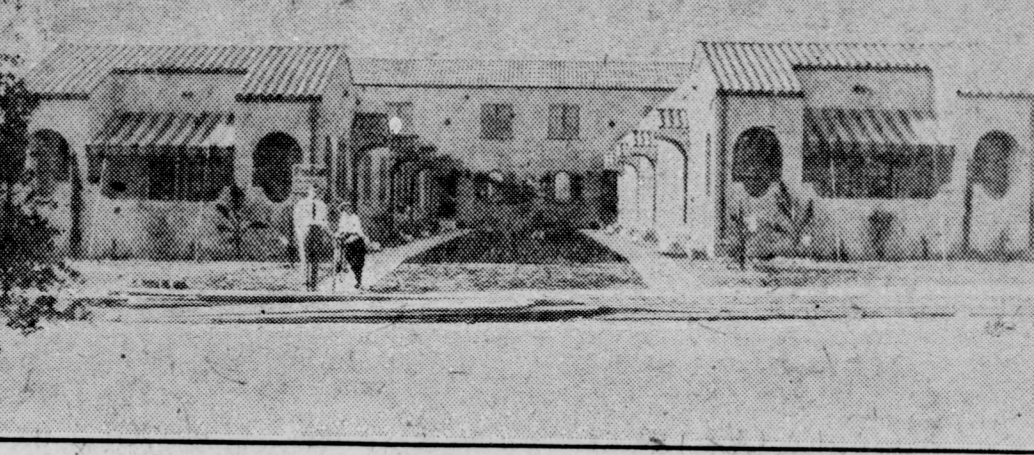

Each of the four divisions will consist of five teams of ten men, making a working organization of 200 citizens.

E. L. Mogge, the campaign director, says he has seldom seen the ready and gracious response for leadership that is being shown by the citizens of Glendale in forming an organization to make possible this much-needed project.

An American firm has received a contract to construct a bridge in Tokyo, Japan, to cost 2,000,000 yen.

Novel Court Arrangement

Fourteen units are included in SEIFER COURT, recently completed at a cost of $50,000 on a highly improved site on West Doran street. All modern features are included in these homes.

SELECT LEADERS FOR Y CAMPAIGN

Division Heads Chosen for $275,000 Driving Opening
On September 16

Great progress was made yesterday in the forming of the organization to provide Glendale with a modern Y. M. C. A. building by the enlistment of Lyman P. Clark, Frank L. Fox, James Newton, R. E. Tucker, C. W. Ingledue, W. F. Tower, H. P. Arnold and P. L. Hatch, who have accepted positions of division leadership in the coming campaign, September 16 to 23, to raise a fund of $275,000, says George D. McDill, general chairman of the campaign.

Lyman P. Clark, manager of one of the divisions, will have as his associate Frank L. Fox. They have chosen the name of "Live Y's," as their cognomen.

"TNT Gang" as their cognomen. Mr. Clark is the president of the Glendale Motor Car company and known for his active co-operation in civic and social affairs, a member of the Kiwanis club, the past president of this organization and one of the present directors, and the director of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Fox, president of the Fox-Woodsum Lumber company is likewise prominent, a director of the Kiwanis club and Chamber of Commerce.

The "Live Y's"
 James Newton, president of the Newton Electric company, will direct the "Live Y's" division. "Live Y's." He will have associated with him in the position of associate manager R. E. Tucker, director of the Community Service of Glendale. Mr. Newton is an old-timer in Glendale, always identifying himself with religious and civic movements for the betterment of the city. He is a director of the Community Service of Glendale, a member of the Rotary club, and a member of the Kiwanis club.

Mr. Tucker has chosen the fighting name of "Bear Cats" as their division title. Mr. Ingledue, president of the Ingledue Realty company, has been actively associated with the Y. M. C. A. in Glendale since its organization as a member of the board, occupying the present position of vice-president. He is a member of the Realty board, Kiwanis club, president of the Glendale Advancement association, and director of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Tower has also been identified with the local Y. M. C. A. board as a member, and actively interested in the growth of the city. He is a prominent member of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Arnold and Hatch
 H. P. Arnold will direct the fourth division and will be assisted by P. L. Hatch. They have chosen the name of "Go-Getters" as best signifying the aim, purpose and result which their division will endeavor to accomplish.

Mr. Arnold, manager of the Bentley Roofing company, is also a member of the Y. M. C. A. board. He is active in music circles and a member of Kiwanis and Oakmont Country clubs. He is a member of the Glendale Rotary club.

ALLEGED EXPERTS TO PITCH SHOES

Realty Board's Hurlers Will Meet Southwest Team
At Brookside Park

The elimination tests that have been under way to select the Glendale Realty Board at the coming state convention at Pasadena culminated last night in the selection of W. A. Horn, J. B. Galvin, S. S. Gilhuly, George D. McDill, Ralph Race and G. H. Warren, and this aggregation of experts will hurl against the team from the Southwest Realty Board of Los Angeles at Brookside park, Pasadena, this afternoon.

Councilman Gilhuly, who entered last night's test, was beaten by Jack Galvin, but his defeat was attributed to the fact that he had recently undergone an operation that crippled one hand, and the presence and the comments of the gallery is also believed to have put "Giff" off his customary sharp-shooting game.

Galvin Crashes In
 Galvin had been eliminated in the first round, but declared himself in again last night, ex officio, as one might say, as chairman of the sports committee of the Realty board, declaring that he would call the entire program off if he was not permitted to get in the game. Rather than precipitate a family row before the crowd, the boys let him play, but his victory over his handicapped opponent is not regarded as such a much anyway.

Mr. Gilhuly's win over G. H. Warren entitled him to a place on the team that goes to Brookside park today. Except for W. A. Horn and G. D. McDill, the other members of the team, Gilhuly, Galvin, Race and Warren, hold a somewhat slim title to their places, but they just went along on general principles, and for the ride, like the Scotchman at the funeral.

Though the recommendations recently submitted by the joint committee from the elementary and high school boards of education mentioned no figures, it is obvious that such a large-scale building program will entail an expenditure of between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. And among the recommendations of the Citizens' Bond committee, asking that the city issue $1,700,000 in bonds for municipal improvements, are a number of items calling for additional construction.

From a consideration of these angles, and, in addition, the fact that large areas of subdivided land are rapidly being built up, Mr. Vandewater predicts that Glendale's building permits will continue to set new records for many months to come.

Old Folks to Picnic At Sycamore Grove

The Glendale Evening News' Sunset club, composed of Glendaleans past 50 years of age, is to be represented Saturday, September 6, at the old folks' picnic in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles.

This will be the annual gathering of all Southern Californians over 70 years of age. Those attending are to take basket lunches. Coffee, cream and sugar will be provided free. In the afternoon there will be a program. A plea is made for all people having automobiles to arrange to take some of the old folks to the picnic.

POSTOFFICE HOLIDAY

All windows at the postoffice will be closed Monday, Labor Day, according to an announcement made today by Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson. There will be no deliveries of mail, but the usual holiday schedule of pickups will be maintained, Postmaster Jackson said.

NEW HANDKERCHIEFS

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Black and white are some of the new handkerchiefs. The handkerchief proper is black chiffon, with a bit of white embroidery in the corner and a frill of narrow white lace.

City Officials Plan Raid on Ocean Fish

Glendale can expect twenty varieties of fish, when the big party of Isaak Walton's disciples from the City will get back tomorrow night. Aided by Councilman Sam Davis and abetted by A. H. Lapham, former councilman, a score of city officials chartered a deep sea barge and will put out from San Pedro at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, bound for where the fish are thickest and the coolest zephyrs blow.

Lieutenant W. J. Royle of the Glendale police department has been detailed to the party by Chief John D. Fraser to keep order and see that no city ordinances are violated. Those who will feed the fishes are: Councilman Sam Davis, A. H. Lapham, A. J. Van Wie, city clerk (who will keep the minutes), Ed Chandler, Harold Thompson, Ray L. Morrow, city attorney (who will advise on any legal complications), Charles Watson, Harold Gray, Arthur Haak, from the comptroller's office (who will audit the accounts), Lieutenant W. J. Royle, J. Woelfel, "Shorty" Foebel and the following "Bills": Bill Rodebush, Bill Parker, Bill Foebel, Bill Smith, Bill Watson, Bill Rowell, Bill Woelfel and Bill Mercer.

Local Hunters Ready To Get Limit of Birds

Glendale hunters today are unlimbering their shotguns and packing their camping kits preparatory to the opening of the dove season Monday. Among the local hunters who will seek to get their limit of fifteen birds Monday are William M. Blakemore, 356 West Milford street, and Dr. W. T. Hunt, 525 West Doran street, who are going to the Santa Ana River country; George Hartley, 1169 Elm street, and Dr. T. C. Baird, who are going into Imperial valley.

George M. Thompson of 1835 Gardena avenue, and P. E. Baker and Robert C. Sargent of Los Angeles will leave today for a two weeks' hunting and fishing trip in the High Sierras. W. F. Heilmann, 632 Alexander street, is going to San Diego county to fish.

Chief Fraser Back After Beach Holiday

Chief John D. Fraser of the Glendale police department was back at his desk this morning, after a vacation of two weeks, spent with Mrs. Fraser at Coronado. He expressed himself as well satisfied with the conduct of the department by Captain William A. Loving and Lieutenant W. J. Royle during his absence.

MAJOR OPERATION

A major operation was performed this morning at the Glendale Research hospital upon Billy McCandless of 219 Piedmont street, Verdugo City.

A small electric truck that is guided by hand is being used to switch freight cars in Germany.

GLENDALE HOLDS LEAD IN BUILDING ACTIVITY

$12,000,000 Total For 1924 Predicted by City
Building Officials as Plans For New Structures Are Prepared

While other fast-growing cities throughout the United States continue to show decreases in building activities this year, over 1923, Glendale goes right on hitting the ball harder than ever. For the first eight months of 1924, now ending, figures in the office of H. C. Vandewater, building superintendent, show that this city enjoys an increase of approximately 12 per cent over a year ago, in number of building permits issued.

Last year, at the end of August, there were $6,643,839 worth of permits chucked up in the local building office. This year, when the office closed at noon today there were $7,081,399 of permits on record. Should this average be maintained for the next four months, Glendale will close the book of 1924 building with over $12,000,000 worth of permits recorded, establishing another nation-wide record for rapid growth.

Glendale's Place
 In the national monthly building survey for July, issued by S. W. Straus & Company, a leading New York and Los Angeles bond house, Glendale stands out prominently in the following comparisons:

|            | July, 1924  | July, 1923 | June, 1924  |
|------------|-------------|------------|-------------|
| Glendale   | $1,126,521 | $ 565,036 | $1,000,785 |
| Long Beach | 1,419,968   | 1,377,332  | 1,515,232   |
| Alhambra   | 488,345     | 463,015    | 432,505     |
| Burbank    | 170,283     | 101,875    | 159,048     |
| Pasadena   | 871,465     | 760,879    | 628,146     |
| Sacramento | 609,405     | 1,065,330  | 509,410     |
| San Diego  | 709,080     | 1,177,045  | 1,524,490   |

When a city the size of Glendale can exceed Pasadena, Sacramento and San Diego in building, and literally swamp Alhambra and Burbank, there is real reason for pride in "the fastest growing city in America."

Principal Projects
 Among the many large building projects covered by these permits, and which are now under construction within the Glendale city limits, are the following:

|                                 |           |
|---------------------------------|-----------|
| Grand View mausoleum            | $450,000 |
| Glendale hotel                  | 380,000   |
| West Coast theatre              | 216,000   |
| Grossman-Meyers apartment hotel | 75,000    |
| Telephone company addition      | 73,000    |
| Upsilon hotel                   | 55,000    |
| Harrower laboratory addition    | 50,000    |
| Dilley-Braugh furniture store   | 35,000    |
| Union Pacific depot             | 32,400    |
| Glendale theatre addition       | 20,000    |

While it would be impossible to compile an accurate list of large building projects about to be undertaken, and for which permits will soon be issued, nevertheless there are certain structures for which plans have already been prepared, and whose erection is certain.

Among these is the eight-story building to be erected for Mrs. James B. McNary on her property at the southwest corner of South Brand and Colorado boulevard, at a cost of approximately $450,000. Another large building is planned by L. H. Wilson and associates, at the southwest corner of East Broadway and Maryland avenue, at a cost of approximately $350,000.

School Buildings
 Though the recommendations recently submitted by the joint committee from the elementary and high school boards of education mentioned no figures, it is obvious that such a large-scale building program will entail an expenditure of between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. And among the recommendations of the Citizens' Bond committee, asking that the city issue $1,700,000 in bonds for municipal improvements, are a number of items calling for additional construction.

From a consideration of these angles, and, in addition, the fact that large areas of subdivided land are rapidly being built up, Mr. Vandewater predicts that Glendale's building permits will continue to set new records for many months to come.

PLANNERS MEET LABOR DAY NIGHT

Delegation of East Lomita
Avenue Property Owners
To Get Hearing

The City Planning commission will meet 7:30 o'clock Labor Day night, September 1, at the city hall, when a delegation from East Lomita avenue will be present and substantiate the two petitions the commission, asking that a 10-foot setback line be established on Lomita avenue from Brand boulevard to Glendale avenue, instead of the regular 25-foot setback line prescribed for the city by ordinance of the City Council.

T. W. Watson, chairman of the City Planning commission, who makes this announcement, states that at the meeting of Monday night the matter of a civic center, referred to the commission by the council, will also be given consideration.

Daily Greeting To News Readers

SEVEN THINGS TO AVOID—
Making sport of another man's honest convictions.
Neglecting any detail that contributes to perfection.
Listening to a man who offers too big a profit.
Spending any time in self-pity.
Undermining the faith of a little child.
Damning a boy by solving his problems for him.
Making a joke out of another man's weaknesses.

IMPROVEMENT IN EUROPE

From the countries of Europe come reports that business conditions are improving and there is hope among the people for re-established stability and prosperity, following the acceptance of the Dawes report. The people of Germany believe the end of the long period of uncertainty following the French occupation of the Ruhr is in sight. Industry and finance are said to be looking up in both France and England. Other countries not directly involved in the reparations controversy hail the final agreement on the Dawes plan as the forerunner of a return to normal conditions in Europe. And, all this will not be without its good effect upon the United States, although Samuel Crowther, economic writer, tells us in an article in Collier's that whatever may be our sentimental interest, we have only a slight financial interest in the eventual adjustment of reparations payments, and that anyone who is basing calculations for the future upon great sales in Europe is going to be bitterly disappointed, for, as Europe returns to production, she will buy less and less of us, and sell more and more to us. However this may be, we shall all be glad to see the return of normal conditions in Europe.

While this country was not officially involved in the London conference, and while the Dawes commission itself was not official, the Christian Science Monitor thinks much of the credit of the success of the plan should be given to the Coolidge administration, and that "what General Dawes may say in his speeches will be of much less importance in its effect upon the public mind than will be the more eloquent testimony to his capacity presented by European conditions as they work out under the operation of the Dawes plan."

THE HAPPY ENDING

That the public demands happy endings is a fallacy that the motion picture producers have been encouraging for a long time. When people go to the movies or read fiction they want to be entertained. Yes. But to see characters that seem real work out a plot that seems like life to an ending that seems inevitable whether happy or otherwise is the best kind of entertainment.

There have been notable examples of modern stories and plays with unhappy endings becoming popular, and paying. This was not because of the unhappy ending, but because such a denouement was the only possible one. This is art, whereas the maneuvering of a plot to bring the hero and heroine together in spite of obstacles that would be unsurmountable in real life is merely mechanics.

One of the older favorites among the novels, "Ships That Pass in the Night," is a good example of a story that leaves the reader feeling that nothing else could have happened, entirely satisfied that the author could have been true to herself, her characters and her readers in no other way, although the lovers are not so much as allowed one kiss. And the story is not depressing or sad. It leaves the reader satisfied.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

There are those who favor capital punishment and others who are unalterably opposed to it. The former see in it the only deterrent for crime, since a sentence of imprisonment may be, and very often is, commuted so that it is not sufficient punishment for the crime. This is particularly the case where the prisoner has influential or wealthy friends, so that justice is defeated. Life imprisonment is, most people think, a worse punishment than death but, it is contended, a sentence of life imprisonment does not always mean that the criminal will remain in the penitentiary for life.

Some cannot feel that it is ever right to take human life. Why should the law commit the same crime for which the criminal has been tried and sentenced?

Lewes E. Lawes, warden of Sing Sing prison, has given his experiences of twenty years of penological work in a book called, "Man's Judgment of Death," in which he claims that capital punishment has proved futile. He says its deterrent effect is erroneous and backs up his arguments with experiences with various criminals.

ONE THING AT A TIME

Walter Hagen, who won the British open golf championship in June, has made a statement about the game that is good philosophy not only for those who wish to improve their golf, but for any and all of us in our every-day work. "I didn't have time to think about the eleventh hole while I was playing the tenth," said Hagen. "I had to figure out every shot for what it was worth, letting the next shot take care of itself when it came time to play that shot."

Thinking and worrying about the eleventh hole while playing the tenth has been the cause of many a failure in golf as well as in other games and work. Doing the thing at hand and not worrying about the next task until we come to it is a pretty good rule in any work or any play in which we are engaged. "One thing at a time and that done well is a very good rule as many can tell," is an old saying, but it still holds true.

PRINCE SELLS ENGLAND

Some of the British politicians are said to be concerned because the Prince of Wales does not show greater aptitude for statesmanship. But they realize that the Prince is a pretty good salesman and that he is engaged in selling England to the world. They make no criticism of his love of travel or of his popularity in other countries. Every time the Prince meets an American, it is said, England gains a friend.

The United States, with the rest of the world, loves and bows to royalty despite our democratic tastes and tendencies. All America will be at the feet of this young Prince the next week or so as we were at the time of his last visit. But, all our adulation is not due to our love of royalty. Much of it is a tribute to one who is more or less unspoiled, even though he enjoys the homage of most of the world.

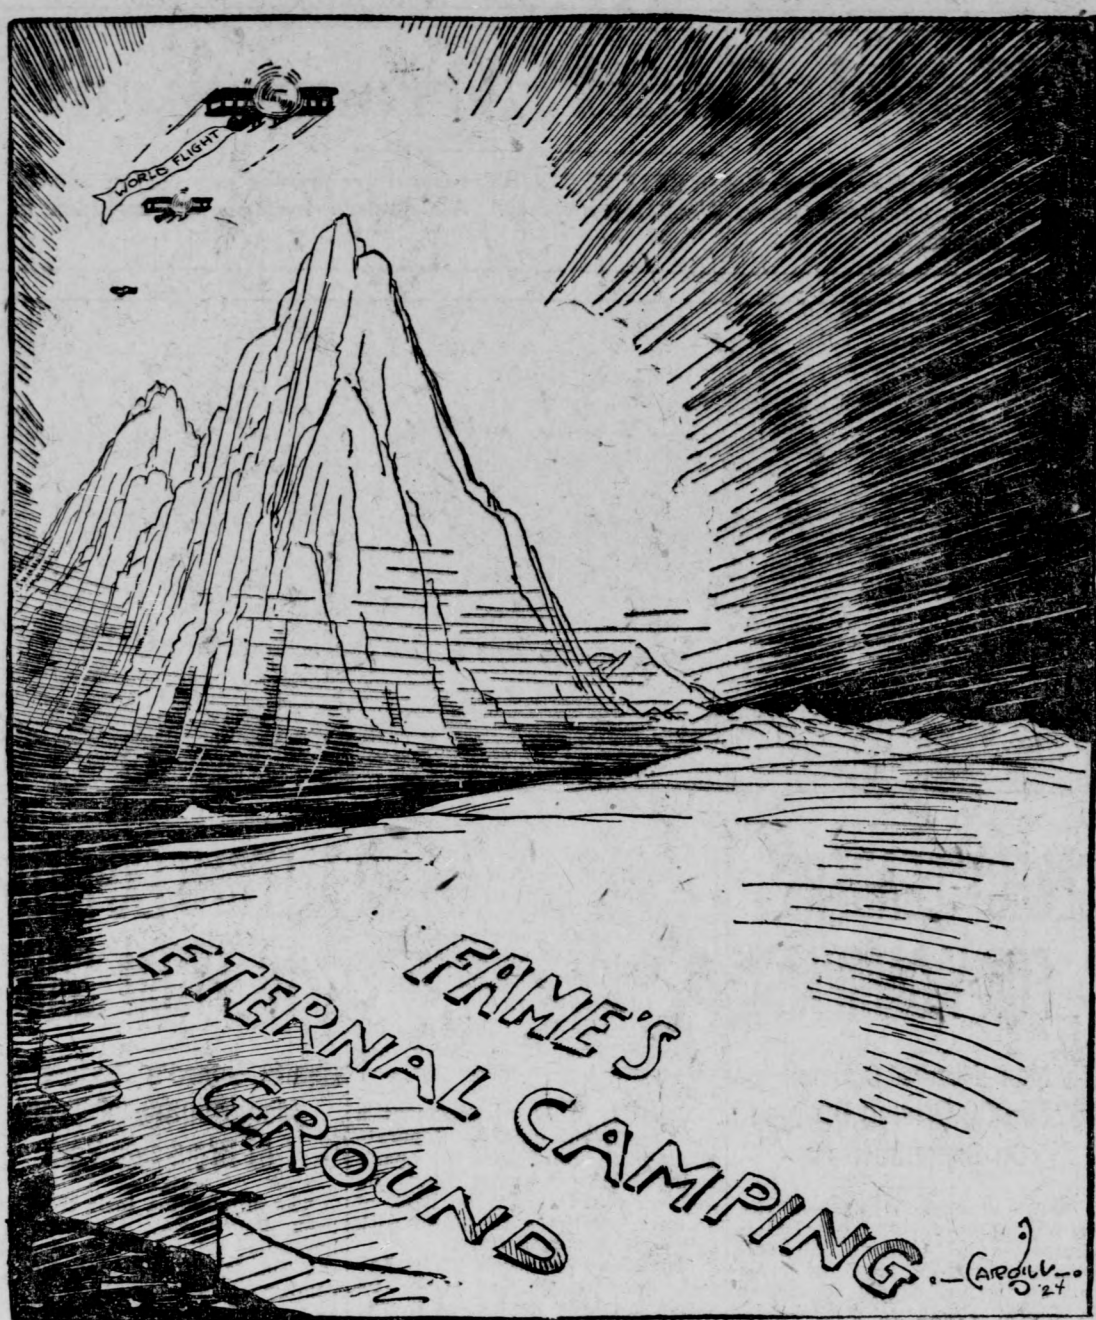

It is difficult to make a man believe that an oil well on his premises would spoil the view.

Money is like air in the tires. It makes the going a lot easier and it smooths out the bumps.

"Pray as you enter," reads the sign on a pile of junk doing service as an automobile.

Who blows his dough has no bread.

THE LANDING FIELD

Sailors

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Admiral Boyle Somerville gives a description, in Blackwood's Magazine of February, 1920, of an inspection made on an armed merchantman during the war which is very interesting.

The admiral first described the arrangement on board a warship, where there is no luxury, but where everything is clean and tidy. There were even bathtubs for the stokers.

On the merchantman, however, he found conditions appalling. The stokers slept in the hold. Around the dirty walls iron beds were placed, one over the other, as many as the place would hold, up to fourteen in number. Every bed was occupied.

The stokers lay there, black and wet, just as they had come down from the engine room. Each man lay huddled up on his "donkey's breakfast," which consists of a coarse brown sack filled with old, hard straw. It was not even arranged as a mattress with square corners and flattened at the sides, but was simply a hard, stuffed sack. There was no other furniture of any sort, no tables, no chairs, no benches, and the only place for clothes was a narrow shelf which would hardly hold a hat.

At mealtimes one member from every cabin crawled up in turn to the galley and fetched down a big dish full of stew, or whatever else it happened to be. Each man got up as the dish was passed around and took his portion of the horrible stuff in his hands and ate it sitting or lying on his bed. It was a far more degrading sight than to see the inhabitants of a zoo. There were no plates, knives or forks, no table to have put them on, not even a bench to sit on while eating. When the visitors asked where the stokers' bathroom was the response was a pitying smile and a statement that such an effeminate luxury was completely unknown among those men. It was also said, "The stokers are used to it. We are not particular on board."

That such conditions should react upon the health of the men is to be expected. Sailors not only suffer from accidents, including drowning, but also from many diseases, such as typhus and yellow fever.

There is no excuse for this, as the cause of the disease and the way it spreads is known, and there are scientific methods of prevention. There is, for instance, that method applied by Gorgas in Panama. As soon as people know how to deal with diseases they become harmless and the area of land in question is cleared of infection.

The question opens an opportunity for the Red Cross, which is probably the only society properly equipped to handle the situation.

Andrew Balfour once quoted a remark of Disraeli's to the effect that "A great scientist and wit said three hundred years ago that there was a misunderstanding in the Vulgate, for where 'Vanitas vanitatum omnia vanitas' was written, what the Wise King had really said was 'Sanctas sanitatum omnia sanitas.'"

The health of the nation should always be up-permost in the minds of its ministers. Both from the standpoint of economy and humanity it will be advantageous to consider the health of the men at sea.

The Ravings Of a Grouch

The newspapers recently have taken a good many columns to tell that President Coolidge, vacationing at his old home in Vermont, was doing nothing. Being in the public eye has its drawbacks. The president of the United States cannot retire to the country and take a little walk in the woods, read the morning paper, or "pace back and forth on the porch," without having his every move broadcasted over the country. There is no such thing as privacy for him.

But Calvin Coolidge is an admirable man and holds the highest position in the land so we can forgive the newspaper writers for making the most of his vacation.

The Prince of Wales is in the public eye, too, and now that he has just arrived in the United States we will be edified by news of his every act. We shall hear what he eats and when, what he wears. We shall hear what ladies are favored by his smile and his invitation to dance. We shall know every move he makes. But David Windsor is a fine fellow, too, a most democratic young man who has had the moral fibre and the strength of character not to be spoiled by the fact that he is the heir to the world's mightiest throne and that he has been trained from babyhood days with the one idea, that he will be a king. He deserves our interest and our respect and we have no quarrel with the newspapers even though they go into useless details concerning his movements.

If we got nothing worse from the newspapers than the fact that President Coolidge "paced back and forth on his porch" and that the Prince of Wales "wore a business suit at dinner on the Berengaria" we should be well off. What I object to is the copious detail foisted upon us poor readers (because we demand it) of the numerous domestic controversies of the day. It is nothing to me if a wife has her nose broken in a family fight nor do I care whether she is "dainty" or "beautiful" or a would-be film star. And it makes no difference to me if the husband is wealthy or poor. I do not care for the sickening details of the life of a murderer or of his or her victim, or how the criminal spends the time in his cell.

We couldn't get along without the daily newspaper but we could exist without some of the stuff dished up to us as news.

URGE AGREEMENT ON RIVER POLICY

Report of Committee Sent to States Interested in Colorado Project

The resolution written and adopted by the Colorado River Committee of the California Real Estate association urging immediate legislative action in the construction of a dam sufficiently high up the Colorado river to assure Southern California sufficient water for domestic use, to safeguard the Imperial Valley lands, to supply power and to reclaim vast acreage of arid lands, has been forwarded by the president of the California Real Estate association to the real estate associations of all states having an interest in the development of the great river. The suggestion has been made that those states take similar action and that copies of the resolution be forwarded at once to the legislators in Washington.

C. C. C. Tatum, vice-president of the National Association of Real Estate boards, who represented the California Real Estate association at the convention of the Northwest Real Estate association in Yakima on August 27, presented the resolution to President Barrett of that organization on behalf of President Henry P. Barbour of California.

The resolution points out the necessity for immediate action and urges upon all interested states to prevail upon their congressmen to forget purely local matters, and consider the bill from the angle of the greatest good for all people that will be served by the waters of the great Colorado.

Association Raises Fund to Guard Title

To conserve the use of the word "realtor" to those entitled to use it, the Michigan Real Estate association, through its executive committee, has appropriated a fund of $500 to be used in discouraging unauthorized use of the word in Michigan. A similar appropriation has been made by the Detroit Real Estate Board. The attention of offenders will be called to the proprietary right which the National Association of Real Estate Boards has in the word. Where misuse persists after this warning, court action will be taken.

The action is undertaken as a service to the membership of the state association and to the cause of real estate in the state.

Although the Sun is in benefic aspect today, astrologers read it as uncertain in its planetary influences. Jupiter and Saturn are strongly adverse.

Under this rule there may be strong contests between capital and labor with much sinister propaganda in circulation.

Bankers are subject to rather a menacing way at this time, because there will be much effort to arouse class prejudice, if the stars are to be relied on.

Saturn is in a place exceedingly threatening for many lines of workers who will be disturbed by discontent that is not warranted, but is nevertheless productive of trouble.

The partial eclipse of the Sun today falls in the first decan of Virgo and is said to presage a calamity and even death to a ruler, probably a king.

The eclipse culminates in the 51st degree east longitude and is supposed to affect Persia especially.

THE COUNTRY FAITH

Where the grass is green,
Life is the same sweet life
As it e'er hath been.

Trust in a God still lives,
And the bell at morn

God comes down in the rain,
And the crop grows tall—
This is the country faith

And chill and drear;
The one lone star is pale and wan

But when day strides across the hills,
The warm blood rushes through
The bare soft bosom of the blue
And all the glad east thrills.

Oh, come, my King! The hounds of joy
Are waiting for thy horn
To chase the doe of heart's desire

Oh, come, my Sun, and let me know

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Why Kick?

Mrs. A.—Even though you are a farmer's wife and have two children and help to cook for, and the pleasures of housework are all yours, there are undoubtedly muscles in your body that are never exercised. This is proven by the fact that while you are a normal weight, you have excess fat on the hips and legs and too little on other spots. There is probably no part of your work that would cause you to use and strengthen your abdominal and back muscles particularly. Do some kicking and abdominal exercises. Kick (up to 100 times a day) beginning with 10, as high as you can, forward and backward, and from one side to another. Another good kicking exercise is: stand about three feet in back of a chair and kick over the chair describing a circle. Begin ten times with each kick and gradually increase until you can do at least 100. Send for our article, "Atonic Abdominal Wall."

Hair Pulling And Cancer

Mrs. M.—You ask if there is any danger in pulling out a few coarse hairs which grow on the breasts? You say you have been doing that and they have been coming in thicker. You want to know if it might cause cancer. Nobody can say what will cause cancer. The one thing we do know is that any chronic irritation may start it, after the cancer age. There probably have to be some other factors, some biochemical changes in the tissues. What these biochemical changes are started by, is still in conjecture, but we have a strong suspicion that improper diet and especially an improper diet combined with overeating, has something to do with it.

Why don't you have the few hairs taken out by electrolysis, if they annoy you.

Jaundice

Mrs. W.—The whites of the eyes become yellowish when there is jaundice caused by some obstruction of the outflow of bile from the liver. This may be due to catarrhal inflammation or to gallstones or from other conditions which might cause pressure. Better have a thorough physical examination. Are you overweight? Plump people are prone to have stones.

Numbness In Hands

Mrs. E. W.—One of the causes of numbness in hands while sleeping is a position assumed in sleeping that cuts off the free blood supply to the hands and arms.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

ANSWERED LETTERS

R. P.—It will help clear your skin of blackheads if you take a full, warm bath every day; keeping the pores cleared over the whole body relieves the pores of the complexion, so that they become refined. As you have done a great deal of experimenting to get rid of the pimples, without success, why not consult the doctor? The cause for them lies in your system and, unless you know just what causes the condition, you cannot help it.

Anxious—When it comes to a deep massage of the facial and neck muscles, there should be a competent masseur, as "harm can come through ignorant manipulations. A massage done only with the finger tips when feeding the skin with a cream cannot be injurious, even though there is no knowledge of physiology of the facial or neck muscles. An important point is to do the work so that all muscles are lifted, as the tendency of impaired muscles is to drop.

An astringent made from one part white of eggs to six parts water will do for a special weekly treatment when there is much sagging of the facial muscles. It should remain on the skin for about a half hour before removing.

Bumpy—If you are compelled to bleach your skin continuously to keep the freckles from showing it would be preferable to have the freckles, as excessive bleaching will dry out the natural secretions. Freckles are rarely becoming as they make the skin look clearer by contrast; they also indicate a healthy condition with most people.

Margaret—Plenty of sleep, fresh air, with a moderate amount of exercise, will do much toward filling out the hollows in the face and increasing the freshness of the skin. It will help much if you massage, using a good cold cream, one made from fine vegetable oils. Cocoa butter fattens, but it should not be used on the face or upper part of the throat if there is the least tendency to superfluous hair.

L. W.—There is no harm resulting from shaving under the arms. If your legs are large because of fat, exercise will reduce them.

Vivian—Clip off all split ends of hair, and stop using the heated iron. Instead, try curling by using the combs, arranging the hair in waves, dampening it before adjusting the combs so that they push the hair up into little tufts all over the head. After the hair dries and the combs are removed you will find that all of it will fall into very soft, irregular waves, which will look even more natural and "permanent."

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the large number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

CHAPTER XXXIX.
"If I ask to!" Craig said, laughing.
"Are you trying to be rude to me?" Violet drawled, her eyes half-closed as she looked at him. "Don't you think that I could interest him through one luncheon, Dora?" she asked.

"Why not try it?" Dora suggested. "If it bored you, you might skip the dessert!"
"I shall. I want to talk—music—with Craig," Vi said. "Shall I call you up, Craig?"
"Better let me call you," Craig amended. "At your mother's house?"

"No, I have little diggings of my own," she said, lazily gathering up the slim brown neckpiece and her gold bag. "Come to the door with me, Craig," she commanded.
Craig obediently rose and escorted her from the room. Hilary, still feeling the slow heaving motion of the sea under her, and pleasantly tired, was pleased to sit silent, enjoying the comfort and beauty of the big room.

She handed her cup to Dora, who was talking over her shoulder to Ratty Davenport about his etching exhibition in an Avenue shop, when Butterfly, taking the cup, and still with smiling eyes on Ratty, said levelly, in a clear, low tone:

"Sis, go break that up!"
For a second Hilary was utterly confused. Then she understood. Leaving her chair, with an odd little sensation of fright, she went casually into the hall, saying to Cy as she reached the doorway:

"I'll get my book. I want to show you how French I look when I go to races!"
Craig and Vi were near the front door, the woman looking straight up into his eyes with a look she was furious to realize that Hilary saw, Craig smiling down at her with his usual tolerant air, his hands in the pockets of his coat.

He was delighted to see Hilary, kept her with an arm wound through both her arms, and drew her into the conversation.
"Fire him then, Vi, and try again! Discussing Vi's Filipino cook," he elucidated to Hilary.

"Craig, I'm afraid to!" Violet pleaded.
"Then get Cy to do it!"
"Cy! If Cy is good for anything on earth, I don't know what it is!" his sister said disloyally. "Well, if my body is found in Park Avenue some day you'll know I tried to fire Bonifacio!"

she said, departing. "Good-bye, Craig, don't forget the luncheon! Good-bye, Miss Collier. So glad you had such a nice trip!"
She ran down the steps and jumped into a waiting limousine. Craig looked at Hilary with a grin.

"What do you make of her?" he asked. "She's a wonder. I don't trust her as far as I can see her!" And immediately, pausing at the foot of the stairs, he added in an undertone: "How does Dora seem to you?"

For answer she looked at him expectantly, faintly frowning.
"I can't—put my finger on it," he said. "But I'm worried about her. She works, she seems wrapped up in her music, she's perfectly well—but—well, I don't know! Maybe it's you she wants; she seemed a different woman when you were here. It couldn't be Atherton?"

"Oh, Craig, no! Why, that wasn't a real affair at all," Hilary said, positively. "Just foolishness, and just beginning, anyway. He crossed on the steamer with us, you know, and he's only a kid. Why, one day he spoke to me about that miniature affair, seemed embarrassed and ashamed about it, like a boy! He said, 'I never would have asked her for it if I'd stopped to think a minute—I wouldn't have Spaulding thought I was getting up wind for the world!' That's the way he felt about it—just that he had presumed."

"Well, maybe you can find out what's the matter with Dora, if anything is!" Craig suggested.
"Could she be jealous of Vi, Craig?"

"Of Vi? Why, I never see her!" His open amazement was the most heartening answer Hilary could have had; and she went upstairs smiling. But she sighed as she reached her room, nevertheless. The heavy, threatening something that had hung over this house at Christmas time seemed to linger here still: misunderstanding, secrets, conspiracy. Hilary already felt apprehensive, jaded, and as if the laughing, joyful mood of the last few weeks belonged to some other woman. Was Dora—was Craig—was something wrong? Why had Dora feared what Craig was saying to Violet in the hall? And why had Craig looked so grim upon the pier?

And tomorrow was Mount Holly and work again.
Hilary reached the office in the little New Jersey town at noon the next day, and prepared to take up the dropped threads with a

LOS ANGELES SEWERS

The city of Los Angeles commenced the construction of sewers in 1873, when the population was approximately 7000.

It was a courageous heart. But the more than ten weeks' holiday, even in the dull season, seemed to have had the effect upon her work of water that closes smoothly over a sunken vessel. John Spaulding had been perforce gracious with his imperative "sister-in-law, and Hilary had had her trip. But Grace Spaulding was not here to act as intermediary now, and the full unpleasantness that her in-convenience had caused him was awaiting Hilary.

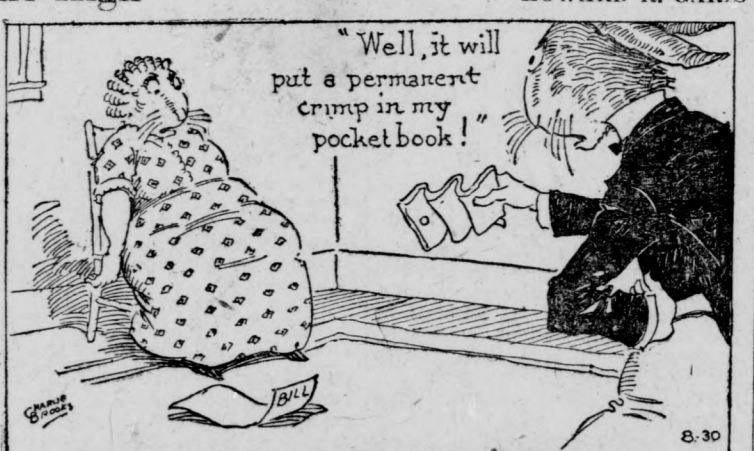

On her desk were some forty disputed letters; fully half of them should have been answered some weeks ago. And in the office where old Kraut still grunted and mumbled, a dapper young man, whose favorite word was "efficiency," had been placed. Mr. Eddy was just out of college, and he was a favorite already with old John Spaulding. It did not make Hilary's hard first day any easier to have this youth respectfully informing her about matters hitherto entirely in her charge. And it was late in a chilly, windy spring afternoon when she discovered that his salary was already more than her own. She walked home feeling sore and depressed.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S DRUM STICKS

As Uncle Wiggily was hopping one day past the seashore cottage where Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the squirrels, were spending part of the summer, the bunny rabbit gentleman heard one of the nut eaters saying:

"Why can't we have them, mother?"

"Because, Johnnie," chattered Mrs. Bushytail, "you make too much noise with them."

"But we'll go away off and drum," said Billie, who was Johnnie's brother.

"You said that before, but you always come back and drum around the cottage and it makes my head ache," said the lady squirrel. "You had better go down and play in the sand."

"What is this talk about a drum?" thought Uncle Wiggily, as he stood, for a moment, outside the squirrel cottage. "Can Johnnie and Billie have caught a drum fish out of the ocean? I must find out."

Hopping closer, Mr. Longears saw the two squirrel boys looking sadly and pleadingly at their mother, who sat in a rocking chair. Each of the squirrel boys had a toy drum, with Uncle Wiggily's picture painted on it (for the bunny rabbit had given the squirrels their drums but neither Johnnie nor Billie had drum sticks).

"And you can't beat a drum without drum sticks," chattered Billie.

"That's just it!" laughed Mrs. Bushytail, as she shook paws with Uncle Wiggily. "I don't want you to beat your drums. You make too much noise. I have hidden your drum sticks."

"But if we had some nice, soft drum sticks, that wouldn't make any noise, then couldn't we drum, mother?" asked Johnnie.

"Yes, but you can't find any soft drum sticks, and I won't let you have your hard ones," spoke the lady squirrel.

"Maybe Uncle Wiggily knows where there are soft drum sticks," said Billie, looking at the bunny.

"Oh, do you?" cried Johnnie.

"Yes," said Mr. Longears, after waving his short tail around in a circle like a goat. "I think I do. I will take your squirrel boys with me to the swamp, Mrs. Bushytail," said Uncle Wiggily. "In the swamp grow cat tail plants. The cat tails have long stems, on the end of which are soft, brown fluffy things that will make fine drum sticks."

In the swamp Johnnie and Billie broke off four cat tails—two for each drum, and with these they softly beat out a jolly rub-a-dub-dub!

"Mother won't mind this soft noise," said Johnnie as he and his brother marched back to the cottage. And Mrs. Bushytail said her boys could drum as much as they pleased with the soft sticks Uncle Wiggily had helped them pick in the swamp. For the cat tails made scarcely any noise at all.

But, all of a sudden, while Johnnie and Billie were playing soldier, the Fuzzy Fox, who had made his way to the seashore to try to get Uncle Wiggily, popped out of the bushes.

"I am going to nibble ears," howled the Fox.
"And I am going to drum on your nose!" chattered Billie.
With that he and his brother jumped at the Fox, and drummed so hard on his nose with the cat tail drum sticks, that, soft as they were, the Fox gave loud howls and, holding his paw on his nose, away he ran.

So it is a good thing the bunny gentleman got the cat tail drum sticks for the squirrel boys, wasn't it? And if the lawn mower doesn't try to cut the hair on the head of the bald eagle, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the doll's eyes.

YANKS FACE HARD GAME AT CLOSE

World Champs to Complete Season on Road; Giants Finish at Home

By JOHN B. FOSTER
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The position of the two major league champions, the New York Yankees and the New York Giants, are practically reversed as the season draws toward a close. The Yankees, sitting comparatively pretty in the percentage column, are through visiting the west and will do most of their battling from now on on the home lot. The Giants, on a nip and tuck fight, have yet to make their farewell bow to the west and have little more home playing to do.

The 1924 schedule places the Yankees at home for their last game of the season on September 7. There isn't even a brief return, thereafter, for a last "look 'em over" should they win the pennant. If they fail to win, the big concrete stadium will close its gates earlier than a New York club has in many years. Literally, it throws the team on the road for the last three weeks of the season, which is not too good for a championship contender. The Yankees' last game is on September 30 at Philadelphia. There they are likely to disband if the fates read them out of their flag.

The Giants have ten more games on the parks of their neighbors. Their very last away from home is at Brooklyn, but that is not much of a jaunt. After September 7, the Giants are at home and will play their last game of the year September 29 against Philadelphia.

Of the ten games that remain to be played away from the Polo grounds, five are in Boston and the remainder in Brooklyn and Philadelphia. That is hardly what could be called a steel wall defense for Pittsburgh, yet it is possible that one of these teams will break away from its lethargy and give the Giants a fatal trouncing.

The big shindy of the Yankees, when they have finished their Washington series, will confront them in the west, where they will have to play St. Louis, Detroit and Cleveland to finish the season. They begin at Chicago, but the Sox are so badly raveled out at the heel that they are not much to be feared. But the Yankees will get no quarter in St. Louis, which occasionally plays a whole of a game. And if Detroit is still in the running by the time the Yankees arrive in the auto city, that series should provide the fireworks of the late season. That over, for better or for worse, the Yankees still must face the scalping knives of the Indians.

Senators Travel
The worst of it all from the Yankee standpoint is that the Yankees have not made a high-class western trip this season. If they don't change that record on the final swing of the circuit, the next American League pennant raising exercises are likely to occur elsewhere than in the Bronx.

The Yankees have a bit of consolation in the fact that Washington must go through pretty much the same sort of mill. The Tigers, however, have cut a half dozen more games away from home, with seventeen left to be played on the home lot. If they were only spurring these days, what a chance it would be for Detroit to win a pennant. The entire season has favored them as they have played about two-thirds of their games at home. Even yet they may go over the top with a burst of glory.

ON THE SANDLOTS
There will be plenty of good ball games in the semi-pro ranks tomorrow, according to the present schedule. One of the biggest drawbacks right now is the shortage of pitchers, good pitchers. Several clubs in the Southland are looking over the market for hurlers.

Gilmore Oilers and Shell Oilers will mix tomorrow afternoon at Third and Fairfax streets, in Los Angeles. Mike Fife and Bob Wallace, both former Coast leaguers, will do the mound duty.

Jasper will lead his Colored All-Stars against the Van Nuys team tomorrow afternoon at the Good-year park. The All-Stars handed the Glendale White Sox a defeat last Sunday. Jasper's crew is scheduled to play the White Sox here Monday.

The Pacific Electric crew will journey to Las Vegas, Nev., for two games, Sunday and Monday, against the Union Pacific team of that place. The two teams are even up on the win basis. A rodeo and big celebration will be part of the featured program.

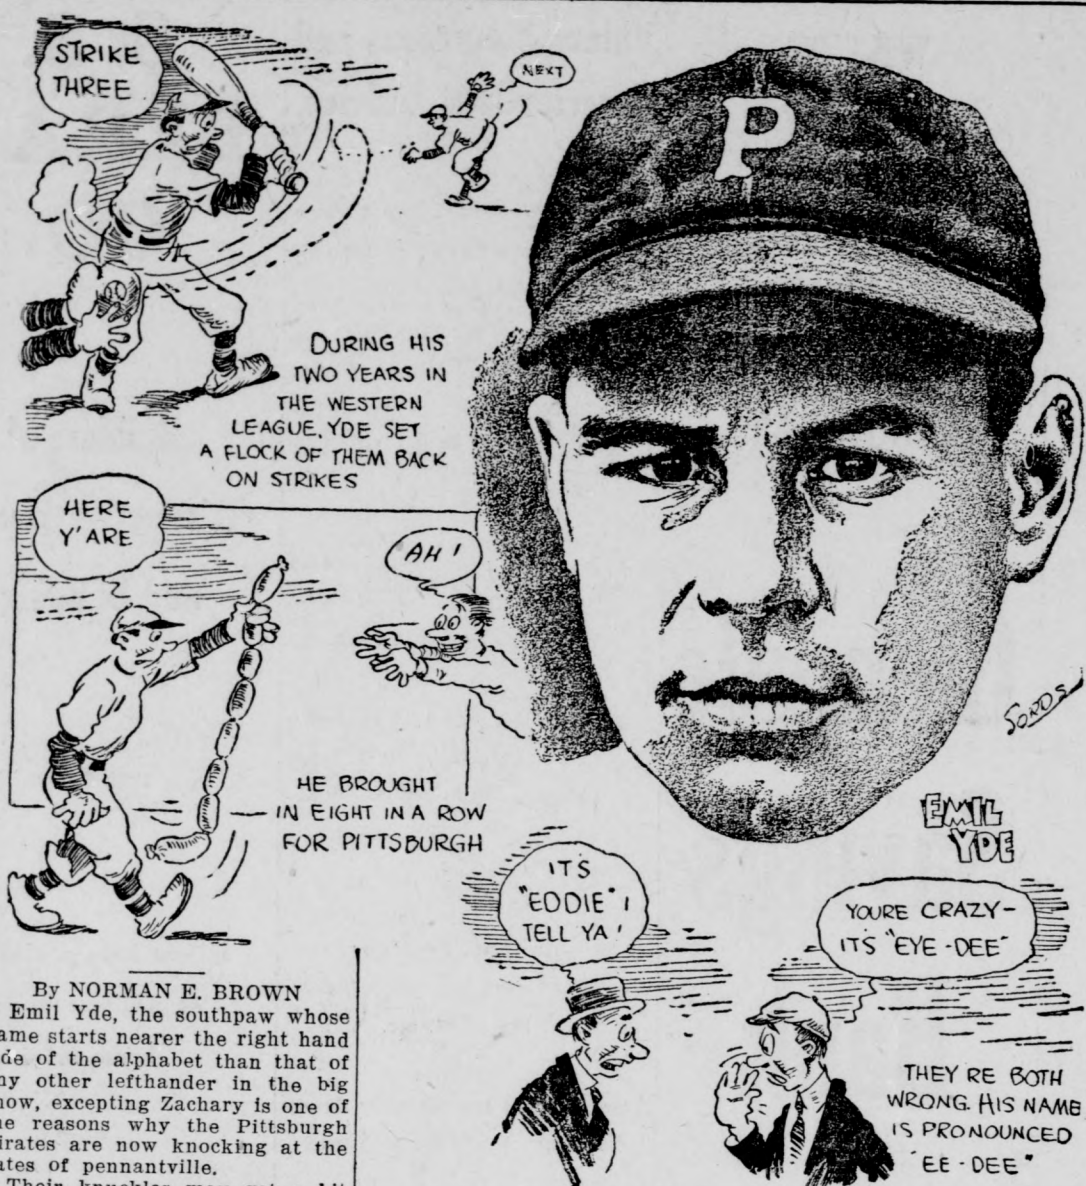

Brookside park, Pasadena, will be the scene of a gigantic struggle tomorrow between Ventura and Pasadena Elks. The result of tomorrow's game has a distinctive bearing on the league standing among the Bills.

FIRE LOSS DROPS
BOSTON, Aug. 29.—The losses by fire in Boston during the last month amounted to only $129,756, as compared with $1,573,362 for the corresponding period last year.

He's a Man of Letters

He Being Emil Yde, Young Pirate Star

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Emil Yde, the southpaw whose name starts nearer the right hand side of the alphabet than that of any other lefthander in the big show, excepting Zachary is one of the reasons why the Pittsburgh Pirates are now knocking at the gates of pennantville.

Their knuckles may get a bit tender and take the pep out of their knocking but right now the Giants are wondering how long the door will hold.

This Yde's the most alphabetical gent in baseball. His name starts just ahead of Z. He surely is a man of letters. It's pronounced as though it were E. D. (Ee-dee) and he works in the winter at the Y. M. C. A. in Freeport, Ill.

Yde's main asset while sojourning in the Western league for two years was his "strikeout ball." The average batter took as many swings at the pill as Yde has letters in his name and then went to the foot of the class. And in the National league he still winds them around the batter's necks.

Last year, with the Oklahoma City Indians, the lad who always drew the last seat in the school room fanned 127 men in 339 innings while winning 28 games and losing but 12.

He played in some 92 games, being inserted as pinch hitter when not in the lineup for mound duty, and hit for a .392 average. This showing against opposing hurlers is partially explained by the fact that they never knew where he was going to stand at the plate. Yde batted from either side.

One need go no further than Yde's record as it appears in the weekly averages to show his worth to the Plunging Pirates. He won eight straight games before being defeated. One of those eight wins was a shutout victory.

The interesting part about Yde's debut in that many experts ignored him in considering the Pirates' chances—due to the fact that he was lacking in big league or faster minor league experience.

INGLEWOOD, WHITE SOX PLAY SUNDAY

Start Series to Determine Semi-Pro Championship Of Sunny Southland

There is going to be a real baseball game tomorrow at the White Sox park on San Fernando road when the Inglewood team, leaders in the Bay District league, and the Glendale White Sox, winners of the title in the Summer league, and holders of the semi-pro consecutive victory belt in Southern California, clash in the first of a series of games to determine the semi-pro championship of Southern California.

Inglewood is coming to Glendale with eighteen wins in a row as its record, while the White Sox players point with pride to their unbroken string of twenty-five victories which was cut short by the Navy Champions of San Diego.

Right now there is a little controversy over the umpire for Sunday's game. Unless Frank Korman, owner of the White Sox, and Speed Getchell, owner of the Inglewood outfit, can get together on an arbiter, Sheriff Bill Traeger will make the necessary assignment.

Inglewood Lineup
Ernie Haycox, who has hurled the Bay leaguers to victory in many games recently, will be on the mound tomorrow for the invaders. Roy Fife will be behind the bat. Stanley Palmer, Bell Chamberlain, Scott, Barrett and McMullin will make up the balance of the team. Some of these players have performed on the local diamond, having played with El Segundo during the Summer league season.

The White Sox will be without the services of three regular players. Elmer Reiger, pitching ace, is in Denver where he is giving a good account of himself in the big semi-pro baseball tournament which is attracting attention throughout the sporting world. "Big Boy" Joe Sullivan is in a Monrovia hospital, laid low by an attack of pneumonia. Frenchy Orsatt, rightfielder, is on his vacation and will not be here.

Al Thomas, formerly with the Catalina Island Cubs, will handle the catching tomorrow. Mike Krohn, former star football and baseball player of Centre college, will play for the White Sox and will probably work on one of the gardens. The pitcher has not been selected as yet. The rest of the lineup will be the same, Shellenback at first, Sawyer at second, Shields at third, Hiriogoyan at short, Young and Dorman in the outfield.

SENATORS WIN AS SERAPHS SLOW UP

Prough Hurls Sacramento to Victory; Series Stands Two All to Date

By C. R. SIMMONS
For International News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Sacramento evened the series with the Angels here yesterday by virtue of a 5-to-1 victory. Bill Prough, one of the oldest hurlers in the league, was directly responsible for the Solon triumph. Bill pitched a faultless game of ball which put the Seraphs back in the cellar position.

Tim Myers started for Krug's outfit, but was taken out in the seventh after allowing the Senators a total of five scores. Payne blanked the visitors in the last two frames.

Sacramento took the lead in the first, when two hits and a stolen base netted one score. Two more markers were negotiated in the third canto when the Solons touched Myers for two bingles and, with a couple of stolen bases and an error, the dirty work was put across. The final pair of tallies for the visitors were shoved over in the seventh with two hits and another "pair of boots" on the part of the Angels.

Tying up the score in the seventh inning and putting across the winning tally in the eighth, San Francisco downed the Salt Lake Bees yesterday, 3 to 1. Grifflin held the Mormons to four hits.

Portland was not satisfied in the cellar position, so yesterday defeated Oakland by a 6-to-5 score. The Beavers were held scoreless until the seventh, when they broke loose for five runs. The winning score came in the ninth. The second game was won by Oakland, 10 to 3.

The first game of a double-header in Seattle ended 7 to 5 in favor of the Vernon Tigers. "Wee" Ludolph twirled for the Bengals. Vernon took the second game, 14 to 12.

TRAFFIC INCREASES
A highway census taken in June shows that traffic has increased 47 per cent over the last previous census, in June, 1923. For the period between June, 1923, and June, 1924, the increase was likewise 47 per cent, showing that the growth is steady. This means a highway that carried 2000 vehicles a day in 1920 is now carrying 4321 vehicles a day.

SAND AND GRAVEL
The sand and gravel sold in the United States during 1923 amounted to 139,932,153 short tons and was valued at $90,903,654, according to reports made by producers to the department of the interior.

BARS LET DOWN FOR L.A. NIMRODS

Hunting in Lowlands Will Be Permitted Under Latest Ruling

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Los Angeles county's anti-smoking and hunting ordinance has been amended by the board of supervisors to be effective only in the Angeles and Santa Barbara national forests and on other "forest land," mountain land and mountain range land. The law, adopted several weeks ago as an emergency measure to prevent repetition of the disastrous fires that swept both the Angeles and Santa Barbara forests, prohibits smoking or firing weapons in the restricted areas.

The effect of the amendment will be to permit dove shooting and other hunting in lowland valleys, where there is no danger that destructive forest fires will result, according to Deputy County Council Albert Leeds.

Dove Hunters Will Be Out in Full Force

Glendale hunters will rally Monday for the dove-hunting season, according to Albert Cornwell, of Cornwell & Kelly, 107 South Brand boulevard. Word that Los Angeles county would be open for dove hunting on Monday when the dove season throughout the state starts, was received here today. Orders against hunting in the county had been issued some time ago on account of the fire hazard, but the Board of Supervisors yesterday decided to let down the bars for dove hunting.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Senators spanked the Yankees again 5 to 1 and increased their lead to one and a half games. Walter Johnson threw a scare into the Yanks' attacks until his thumb collided with a liner in the eighth.

Brooklyn drew first blood in the battle of the boroughs, a three-run rally in the eighth beating the Giants 3 to 1. It was Vance's twenty-third victory.

Cleveland won 5 to 4 from the Athletics in a ten inning affair.

Ehmke stood the Athletics on their heads as the Red Sox made it three straight, score 5 to 1.

The Braves turned in their weekly victory, beating the Phillies 6 to 4.

Sen. Wheeler Ready to Stand Trial in Butte

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, who is under indictment in Montana, charged with accepting money for appearing before a federal department after he was elected to the Senate, announced today that he was ready to have the case tried and would not ask for a continuance when it was called in Butte on Monday.

BUILDERS' PROFITS

An analysis of income tax returns shows that the average profit of building contractors throughout the United States having incomes in excess of $5000 a year is less than 4 per cent.

MANY NEW HOMES WILL BE ERECTED

Contractors Predict Early Activity In Building Through Southland

Twenty-five thousand small homes for Southern California. That is the number of new dwellings predicted for construction throughout the Southland during the fall, winter and early spring months of next year by officials of the United Bonded Contractors' Association of Southern California, which claims that the outlook for prosperity in the building industry in this territory is very promising.

Members of the association, which was recently organized, are small home building contractors whose integrity, responsibility and qualifications for skilled workmanship have been established. Nearly one hundred builders are affiliated with the organization, which has received the endorsement of many of the older construction organizations and bonding houses.

The prediction for increased activity in the building industry in Southern California has been based by association officials upon the recent notable increase in building permits issued in the larger communities of the Southland, upon tentative contracts of members of the organization and also upon the reports being issued by the passenger departments of all of the trans-continental railroads concerning preparations for exceptionally heavy passenger traffic to Southern California this fall and winter from all points in the east and middle west.

Defamation Charged In Sales Girl's Suit

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Charging that Harry George, wealthy Long Beach merchant, maligned her reputation and defamed her character, Eva A. Birker, former salesgirl in his employ, has filed suit in superior court for $20,000 damages.

George operates the New York Waist Shop, 345 Pine avenue, and another on East Seaside boulevard. On May 12, Miss Birker asserts, George accused her before the other employees and patrons of the theft of $9.90 received from the sale of two garments. She declares that her employer had the money in his possession at the time.

Later, she asserts, two detective lieutenants grilled her for more than an hour and put her through the "third degree" without view of all the other clerks. As a result of the alleged "third degree" methods, she asserts she became ill and was under the care of a physician for several days.

W. B. Dorse Hurt In Motorcar Collision

W. B. Dorse of Western avenue, Glendale, lies in a semi-conscious condition at the Cottage hospital, Burbank, with concussion of the brain, following an automobile accident at 6:30 o'clock last night at the corner of San Fernando road and Allen avenue, when his car collided with the car driven by H. W. Michael of Los Angeles.

Mr. Dorse passed a very bad night at the hospital, it is reported, and today is in a critical condition. In addition to concussion of the brain he is believed to have sustained an injured spine.

Federal Dry Agents Plan Padlock Regime

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Abatement proceedings to close a number of road houses in Los Angeles county for one year, under the Volstead act, including Glendale Tavern at Glendale, will be brought by federal agents on evidence obtained in a series of raids staged yesterday, it was announced at the office of dry agents here today.

At Glendale Tavern yesterday four men were arrested and a quantity of liquor was reported to have been seized. The men are Ernest Landfield, John W. Oliver, George Cook and B. Herman.

An injunction closing the Verdugo Ranch road house, 4201 Verdugo boulevard, and the Pompeii cafe, 421 South Western avenue, for the period of a year will also be asked, it was said.

Girl Sues Motor Bus Company for $77,825

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Dorothy Madsen, 15, was an unusually attractive girl, but she lost all of her "beauty and charm" when she was seriously injured in an alleged collision between a stage operated by the Los Angeles Motor Bus company and an automobile in which she was riding at Western avenue and West Twelfth street on July 12, she alleges in a suit for $77,825 damages filed through her guardian, Esther M. Trimble. The girl was dragged fifty feet and her skull fractured. The complaint alleges the bus was being driven at thirty-five miles an hour.

ROYAL VISITOR TO SET FASHION

American Designers Busily
Engaged on Creations
To Mark Visit

By AILEEN LAMONT
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.
NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The great American sport for the next few weeks will be dressing up for—or after—the Prince of Wales. Dressmakers and clothiers owe a great deal of gratitude to the prince's visit. For the first, it has aided in promoting a sincerity and simplicity of dress and an expression of individual good taste such as has seldom been experienced in America. For the latter, it is counted on to insure the sale of checked golf trousers and gray hats to every actor who ever overworked the personal pronoun.

Like Gaul in Caesar's time, the female population is divided into three parts: Those destined to meet the prince, those who hope they may possibly do so and those who desire to emulate the dress of the first two. For all, the element of simplicity will be supreme.

The American designers are wise enough to realize that dressing up for the prince need not consist of undressing for him. They know that being thoroughly familiar with Montmartre and Deauville, this cosmopolitan young man is proof against shock.

Is Level-Headed
The designers who know that the chap who has earned the title of the best dressed man in Europe, held once by his grandfather, Albert Edward, king and emperor, could not have attained that honor without an appreciation and exercise of good taste. They realize that even if he wears a round hat, his head is level and that his ideas of dress are sound.

The factors listed above have taken the emphasis from sport clothes, although the international polo games will be the center of the prince's activities. English tailors make better sport clothes than are constructed here and the prince's countrywomen wear them with a naturalness and flair approached by few Americans.

Changes Are Halted
Skirts that were beginning to creep up toward the knees, have halted at a discreet distance above the ankles. Neck lines that reached almost abysmal heights have risen with the tide of good taste. The floppy capeline cap has been surpassed by the trig turban and the outre stocking and shoe effects have been replaced by more subdued if none the less fragile footwear.

For the suits, no color will be more popular than the bluish gray, so much worn by the prince himself on formal occasions. In evening frocks the colors chosen are more vivid and expressed in brooches, fawnettes and velours, with the lame fabrics still holding the premiere place.

Doble Car Officials Face Serious Charge

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—By a surprise move, the district attorney office believed today it had found a way to obviate the necessity of calling 10,000 witnesses in its case against F. G. Cox and W. E. Barnard for alleged violations of the state corporation securities act in connection with the sale of stock in the Doble Motor Car company. Going before the grand jury the district attorney secured the indictment of Cox, Barnard, Abner Doble, W. A. Doble and Harold E. Haskens, officials of the motor company, on a charge of conspiracy. They believe under the new indictment it will be possible to get the company's books in evidence to show sale of more than one hundred thousand shares of stock under the state permit.

Church Workers Plan Farewell to Tildens

The deacons, their wives and deaconesses of the First Baptist church are entertaining with a picnic supper at Hermosa Beach tonight, as a farewell to Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Tildens, who leave Tuesday for Bakersfield to make their home, as Mr. Tildens has accepted a position in the Bakersfield High school.

Mr. Tildens has been affiliated with the church for the past several months as associate pastor, and during the past month has been occupying the pulpit during Rev. E. E. Ford's absence.

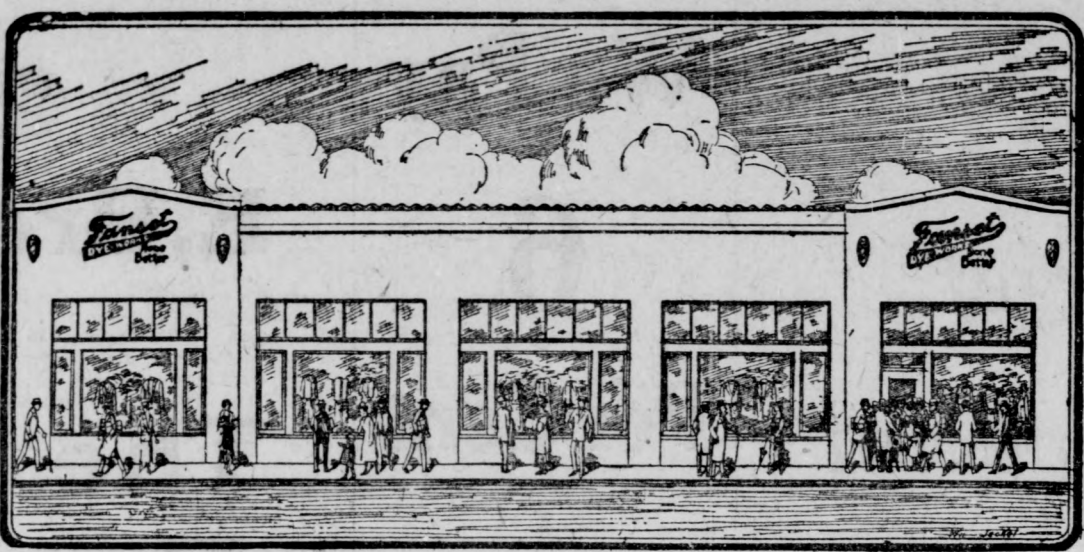

Among those who will be in attendance at the affair tonight are Mr. and Mrs. Hobson, Mr. and Mrs. George McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Moffitt, Mr. and Mrs. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Griggs, Mr. and Mrs. Detweiler, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Rowe, Mrs. W. F. Wood, Mrs. Wayland Wood, Mrs. Piercey, Mrs. Marsh and Mrs. J. F. Moody.

Radio Speaker Will Occupy Local Pulpit

Rev. John A. Hubbard, whose radio messages over station KJIS every Sunday evening at 6 o'clock have been so greatly enjoyed by thousands of people, will occupy the pulpit of the Glendale Presbyterian church tomorrow, both morning and evening. Rev. Mr. Hubbard was for several years pastor of the old Scotch church at Dallas, Texas, and subsequently was appointed on the teaching staff of the Mt. Berry school in Georgia. He is at the present time a member of the faculty of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles.

BOY IS PRODIGY AT MATHEMATICS

Six-Year-Old Calculates All Sorts of Problems In Lightning Fashion

By L. C. OWEN
Special Correspondent, The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—What makes a prodigy? Will some of the learned alienists, psychiatrists and other experts on brain cells who have analyzed, dissected, described and in some instances found excuses for the crimes of "Babe" Leopold and Dickie Loeb, please step forward and explain by what strange mental quirk a 6-year-old boy can stand a whole country on its head with his weird mathematical ability?

Bobby Harris, who can neither read nor write, who never went to school until a few days ago, but who can add, subtract, multiply and divide in whole numbers or fractions, and can compute interest problems that would give a bank cashier a headache—all in the twinkling of an eye and without aid of pencil or paper—is the prodigy over whom San Francisco is wondering.

Just Normal Boy
Outside of the fact that it does not take any paid alienist to convince folks that Bobby has an abnormal development, there is no reason for mentioning him in the same paragraph with the Chicago slayers. He is just a normal boy otherwise, who loves to play baseball and indulge in other kid pastimes. Three of his front teeth are gone—from boxing. He likes dogs, movies and cap pistols, and is exceedingly bashful where girls are concerned.

If there is any doubt about his being a prodigy, however, it also should be mentioned that he understands and can make himself understood in five languages besides English—all picked up through playing with other kids of various nationalities.

As a human comptometer, Bobby is literally chin lightning. Here are the sort of mathematical problems to which he snaps out answers almost before the words are out of the questioner's mouth:

Knows the Answers
What's 29 times 24? What's the interest on $76 at 6 per cent for 11 months, 6 days? If a room is 16 1/2 x 23 1/2 feet, how many yards of carpet 3 feet wide and wallpaper 2 feet, 3 inches wide, will it take to cover floors and walls? If a case contains three gross of eggs, two-fifths of them broken and one-sixteenth bad, how many good eggs remain?

Bobby apparently solves each stage of the complicated problems within a fraction of a second after he hears them. There is no puzzling hesitation. Of course, there is a limit. He cannot work up into five-figure combinations—yet—but in mathematics of the type usually handled by business men with pencil and paper he can find the answer without such aids in from one-half to two seconds.

May Inherit Ability
Bobby does not know how he does it. He says he "just sees" the answer and says it. His mother first discovered his human comptometer proclivities two years ago. Since then his parents have helped him develop the capacity.

His father furnishes the only clue to 6-year-old Bobby's astonishing facility at figures by divulging that Bobby's grandfather formerly was professor of mathematics at Girard university.

Central Avenue Site Is Sold for $25,000

A corner at the intersection of South Central avenue and San Fernando road was reported in escrow by Chas. E. Murphy, 169 South Central avenue, who, in conjunction with Chas. Kelso, closed the deal whereby Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Rockefeller became the new owners of the property. "We have closed several other deals this month," says Mr. Murphy. The total consideration of the Central avenue property is reported at $25,000.

"We are looking for a good winter," said Mr. Murphy, "and with the usual fall rush prior to school opening in the city we believe that Glendale will have a splendid year."

THIN FILM STAR EXPLAINS RULES

Tells Admirers How to Keep
Proper Dieting

By MARIAN MARSHALL
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—"Diet?" "Yes, a carrot." Such was the talk of a press agent and a movie star which resulted in the following effusion:
"How do you do it?"
That is the tenor (or, being feminine epistles, should it be "treble"? ) of every other fan letter which comes to Dorothy MacKail's breakfast table.

The query refers to Dorothy's perennial state of attractive thinness.
Tells Difference
"There's a vast difference between attenuation and attractive thinness," Dorothy vouchsafed the other morning. "For the guidance of many interrogators I have devised four general rules of diet and deportment. Here they are:
"Do not eat by rote.
"Let the breakfast hour pass until you have exercised.
"Abandon the lunch hour entirely and replace it with a pint bottle of milk—but do not drink this—sip it.
"Sit down to your one meal of the day only when you have achieved complete mental and physical relaxation.

Don't Starve
"In such a climate as California's I partake of meats only on the cooler nights and go through the hot spells on a purely vegetarian diet.
"I want to add a word of caution. Do not deprive the body of natural nutritive demands. A starvation diet means just one thing—attenuation. And a shrunken figure can't be defined as being 'attractively thin.'"

SANTA ANA, Aug. 30.—A Marling sword fish, said to be the largest ever landed, was recently caught by Horace E. Van Dien, local man, while on a fishing trip at Catalina. The fish weighed 430 pounds, and put up a four hours' fight before he allowed his captor to land him, during which time the mammoth sea monster carried the fishing boat twelve miles seaward.

MARRIAGE IS MELODRAMATIC
SANTA ANA, Aug. 30.—Melo-drama was enacted in the township justice court here, when pretty Ida Cortez stepped up to the bar and summarily ended a kidnapping case by declaring "these kidnappers, what you call them, are dear friends of mine. I married Jesus Solerio in Los Angeles, and he was one of them." Then the judge learned it was a "cave man" elopement that actually succeeded in winning the sweet sonnet from El Modena.

TEACHER RECANTS PACIFIST WRITINGS

Legion Council Satisfied That
Tendency to Propagandize
Pupils Will Stop

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Willis T. Newton will be retained on the teaching staff of Manual Arts High school, the Los Angeles board of education has decided after hearing charges preferred against him by the Los Angeles county council American Legion.
But the legionnaires had the pleasure of hearing Newton recant the pacifist principles he had enunciated in written articles. And like good sportsmen they issued the following statement:
"The Legion did not participate in the hearing in the guise of a prosecutor, but was merely there to lay the matter before the board with the announced intention to abey by its decision."

Warning to Others
While this particular case attracted considerable attention, there are other teachers, it is said, whose preaching of pacifist propaganda will not be tolerated in the classrooms if the Legion learns about it.
The fact that Mr. Newton has recognized the impropriety of his act will serve as sufficient warning to others, the board believes. And so the incident is closed.

bara this week for a month's visit. In regard to preparedness and the day set aside for its observance. Dr. Goodkind said: "It is my belief that Defense Day will work toward peace and not war. The building up of protective forces does not mean belligerency nor a desire to fight. Rather, it is indicative of a desire to avoid war and I am in favor of such work."

Federal Agents Fail To Locate Mors Gems

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 30.—Failing to find any of the alleged smuggled jewels belonging to Mrs. Teresa Mors, for whose murder "Kid" McCoy is held here, in McCoy's possession, federal customs agents were reported today to be continuing their search elsewhere.

Among the asserted smuggled jewels sought by the agents is a large pendant, encrusted with diamonds, pearls and rubies, said to be worth $25,000.

By the terms of Mrs. Mors' will, rights to a motion picture entitled "Kidding Kid McCoy," pass now to Mrs. McCoy having given the rights to Mrs. Mors in a formal contract, it was learned today.

The picture, it was said, may be produced, several persons having approached Mrs. Mors with the idea of purchasing the film rights.

Alleged Hi-Jacker Is Sought at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 30.—Deputy sheriffs today combed San Diego county for a man, said to be the third member of an alleged "hi-jacking" trio, who are said to have made repeated raids on a ranch near National City where county officers yesterday uncovered one of the largest illicit booze making plants in this county and arrested C. P. Ward.

Ward was later released on $1,000 cash bail and then informed the officers of the actions of the "hi-jackers" and the arrest of two men followed. The officers withheld the name of the two men and said the present charge against them was "investigation." The third "hi-jacker" was the object of their hunt today.

'Dollar-Day' Brings Buyers to Millea's

More than 1800 cash sales on Thursday at the "Dollar Day" sales event at Millea's furnishing store at 119 North Brand boulevard, made the sale one of the most successful in the history of the business, and bears out opinions that business conditions are good and growing better in Glendale.

The Millea store, formerly Gordon's, has always been a popular place, and the policy of Mr. Gordon to cater to Glendale's buying public, is being admirably carried out by Mr. Millea who is achieving great success in his policy of "Cash Buying and Cash Selling."

The picture, it was said, may be produced, several persons having approached Mrs. Mors with the idea of purchasing the film rights.

Helen Moore Daughter Of Mrs. Mary Moore

The mother of Miss Helen Moore, 14-year-old girl who ran away from home on Sunday night and was discovered yesterday in a Burbank hotel by Glendale police detectives, is Mrs. Mary Moore, and not Bertha Moore, who is a nurse in a local sanitarium and in no way related to the runaway girl or her mother.

The confusion arose over the fact that both women work at the same sanitarium and the name of each is Moore. Mrs. Mary Moore, whose daughter is now back with her, is employed, not as a nurse, but in another capacity.

With three homes now under construction in "Rossmoyne," we are getting ready to break ground for our first residence in the "Ellipse," which will be one of the finest in Glendale.

With 8 rooms and 3 baths, as shown above, finished in "Flemish Architecture," and built to fit the natural contours for the 100 ft. lot, it will demand the unqualified admiration of everybody.

With a Living Room 19x27, and a Dining Room 12x19, and Bedrooms 13x15; 13x16 and 12x15, and Maid's Room and Bath 19x13, nothing has been spared to make this home exclusive and impressive.

Glendale has been crying for such homes in the past. Here is the first of 20 such exclusive homes, which we contemplate building in Rossmoyne. All our plans and specifications are open for your inspection in our office.

SHIPS REPORT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Shipping men report that reservations on all types of American passenger ships operating on the Pacific have been heavy. Quarters on shipping board vessels must be engaged from six weeks to two months ahead. Superior service, better meals and greater speed are declared to account for the popularity of American vessels.

FARM PRICES HIGHER

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The improved outlook for agriculture has resulted in renewed dealing in farm lands through the middle western states. Reports indicate that in some states prices of land are advancing for the first time in five years.

More than 62,000 laws were passed by the federal government and state legislatures in the last five years.

"Be a Shareholder in Your Community--- Own a Home"

A shareholder in our community is a boost for Glendale and the things which will make Glendale a cleaner and better city year after year. We are apt to forget that a renter is liable to fight civic improvements, increased taxation in the community betterments, for they mean little to him, and only tend to increase his rent, and this adds to his discontent. We all know that a discontented citizen threatens the stability of society.

So, for the class who are content to live in rented houses instead of a home, we urge you to become the owner of your own home, that you may really enjoy the benefits of home ownership, and be a shareholder in your community. Home ownership gives a sense of security and makes a man contented, and gives him a greater love for his home and family.

This organization provides free building ideas to prospective homebuilders. Inspect our modern, up-to-date plans service department, and hundreds of hand colored photographs of the ideal California home. The plans are immediately available for any home pictured in our service, and there is no charge to customers for plans or building information.

Select your plan and build now is good advice. Buy your materials from Bentley's; they're dependable, our deliveries are prompt, we guarantee you satisfaction, and you will find us a pleasure to deal and do business with.
